Hoover Declares He Favors Change In Liquor Laws

President in Acceptance Speech Favors Giving State Liquor Control ACCUSES DEMOCRATS Charges Opposition Party With Attempts to Raid Treasury of Government

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The movement against national prohibition advanced to new ground today with the declaration of President Hoover that he favors a change.

In his acceptance speech, Mr. Hoover favored changing the 18th amendment to give control of the liquor traffic to the states, with Federal protection for dry states and measures to prevent return of the saloon in any state, wet or dry.

This switch from his former allegiance to the 18th amendment has shifted the entire issue.

Both presidential candidates now stand opposed to the 18th amendment, though Mr. Hoover reiterated his sympathy with its "high purpose."

The question now is not whether there shall be a change but what kind of a change.

Taken completely by surprise, many wet and dry leaders alike played for time before commenting on the President's new position.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, chairman of the allied forces for prohibition, said he would comment later today. E. C. Dinwiddie of the Prohibition Board of Strategy said he would make a statement later.

The Crusaders, a leading anti-prohibition organization, said they wished to wait before commenting.

Governor Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover's opponent for the presidency, is standing on the Democratic platform calling for unconditional repeal and immediate restoration of beer through modification of the Volstead act.

Personal View

President Hoover goes beyond the Republican platform which merely proposes submission of a substitute amendment for state control, but does not urge adoption.

LIBBY HOLMAN NOT TO HANDLE ESTATE

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds has forfeited all legal right to be administrator of the estate of her husband, Zachary Smith Reynolds, according to William E. Church, clerk of Forsyth county court.

Church pointed out that Mrs. Reynolds would have had first right as Reynolds' only heir is a minor, but the 30 days stipulated by law for such qualification have expired.

The county clerk also said North Carolina law does not permit the appointment of a person under indictment for a felony to such an office unless exonerated.

HERE'S HOW HOOVER STANDS ON EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT

Following is that portion of President Hoover's speech of acceptance dealing specifically with the 18th amendment and his views upon the subject.

Across the path of the nation's consideration of these vast problems of economic and social order, there has arisen a bitter controversy over the control of the liquor traffic. I have always sympathized with the high purpose of the Eighteenth amendment and I have used every power at my command to make it effective over the entire country. I have hoped it was the final solution of the evils of the liquor traffic against which our people have striven for generations. It has succeeded in great measure in those many communities where the majority sentiment is favorable to it. But in other and increasing numbers of communities there is a majority sentiment unfavorable to it. Laws imposed by majority sentiment create resentment which undermines enforcement and in the end produces degeneration and crime.

Our opponents pledge the members of their party to destroy every vestige of constitutional and effective Federal control of the traffic. That means over large areas the return of the saloon system with its corruption, its moral and social abuse which debauches the home, its deliberate interference with those states endeavoring to find honest solution, its permeation of political parties, and its perversion of legislatures, which even touched at the capital of the nation. The Eighteenth amendment smashed that regime as by a stroke of lightning. I cannot consent to the return of that system.

EXPERT CLAIMS HADEN CLARKE TOOK OWN LIFE

Ballistics Authority Accuses Card Played by Lancaster in Trial

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12.—(UP)—A noted ballistics expert made the emphatic assertion here today that Haden Clarke, young Miami journalist, "absolutely committed suicide."

Testimony of Dr. Albert H. Hamilton, N. Y., criminologist was the ace card played by the defense in the trial of Captain William N. Lancaster, British aviator, charged with murdering Clarke.

Death of Clarke occurred here last April, a few days after he had told Lancaster, with whom he lived, that he and Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, were to wed. For five years Lancaster had been in love with Mrs. Keith-Miller, but was supplanted in her affections by Clarke when he began writing a book on the air venture of the aviatrix.

Dr. Hamilton's testimony, his flat assertion that Clarke ended his own life, climaxed a dramatic court session featured by display of the dead man's skull. The criminologist expertly handled the bullet, pierced skull, carefully pointing out to the jury how he was certain that the death was suicide.

The shot that killed this man, was self-inflicted, he testified. The gun was pressed hard against the head and the head hard against the gun—absolutely homicide.

Attorney James Carson of defense counsel leaped to his feet at utterance of the word "homicide," exclaiming nervously:

"What did you say?"

The witness hesitated for a moment, then broke into a brief laugh, and replied:

"I was thinking of something else."

FREED OF CHARGES OF STEALING GIRL

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 12.—(UP)—William Gordon Downey, 32-year-old crippled ex-jockey, today was freed of charges he "stole" Dolores Francis, 15.

Downey, who has been confined to a wheelchair since an accident years ago, and the girl eloped from Fresno recently. They planned, they said, to go to Reno, Nev., to be married. They were halted by Oakland police at the request of the girl's mother.

The charges against Downey were dismissed on condition he wait until the girl is of age.

PICCARD WILL MAKE FLIGHT SATURDAY

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard announced today that he will start his balloon flight 10 miles into the stratosphere at 5 a. m., Saturday.

Weather forecasts indicate conditions will be ideal. Professor Piccard planned to stay up at least eight hours. He will study the action of cosmic rays while in the stratosphere.

SEEKS TO HOLD UP SALARY OF STATE OFFICER

Complaint Asks Restraining Order to Prevent Webb Getting Pay

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Continuing the fight to force state constitutional officials to maintain offices in Sacramento as the state capital, a suit seeking to withhold the salary of Attorney General U. S. Webb was filed in Sacramento county superior court today by George Ackerman, Sacramento candidate for the state assembly.

The complaint names Ray L. Riley, as state controller, defendant and asks that he be enjoined from paying Webb's salary on the ground that such payment is illegal as long as Webb, who is seeking to maintain his office in Sacramento, maintains his office in Sacramento.

The complaint quotes Article XX, Section one, of the state constitution, which definitely provides that the attorney general, justices of the supreme court, clerks and reporters of the supreme court must reside in the city of Sacramento and maintain their offices in the city of the seat of government of the state.

"Not a single member of the supreme court nor the attorney general is now, nor has been since his incumbency in office, a resident of the state capital, nor have they maintained their respective offices here," Ackerman said.

"It is high time that the city of Sacramento be made the capital of the state in actuality as well as in name. To that end I have taken legal action to force all officials of the state to comply with all the laws of California."

ILLINOIS MINERS PLAN PICKETINGS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Spokesmen for Illinois union coal miners announced today that all mines which attempt to reopen tomorrow under the new $5 basic wage scale will be picketed.

The threat, ominous with potential violence such as cost bloodshed in Indiana and resulted in calling out national guardsmen there, came as several thousand workmen prepared mines throughout the state for resumption of production.

The districts all show that the average daily attendance of pupils fell to five or less for the last year. Four failed to maintain school at all during the year and three had an attendance of one pupil only. Orange county is not affected.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO BE SUSPENDED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Twenty-nine elementary school districts located in 19 California counties must be suspended by their county boards of supervisors for lack of pupils, Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, announced today.

The districts all show that the average daily attendance of pupils fell to five or less for the last year. Four failed to maintain school at all during the year and three had an attendance of one pupil only. Orange county is not affected.

Chancellorship Refused Hitler By Hindenburg

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Chancellor Franz Von Papen on behalf of President Paul Von Hindenburg, tonight refused to make Adolf Hitler chancellor of Germany.

The decision probably will result in serious political repercussions, particularly in strenuous Nazi opposition to Von Papen's present cabinet.

Hitler's envoys waited upon Von Papen and presented their leader's demands for the chancellorship. They threatened strenuous opposition if they were rejected.

Von Papen, speaking for himself and President Von Hindenburg, declined firmly but politely.

The envoys left to communicate with Hitler, who is in the vicinity of Berlin.

COUNTY BOARD OF STRATEGY ENDORSES NINE CANDIDATES

Names Made Public By Local Group

Clyde Downing Endorsed for State Senator; Party Lines Ignored

FOLLOWING a thorough investigation of candidates for public office at the coming elections, the Strategy Board of Orange county today officially endorsed Clyde Downing as a candidate for state senator, following action of the Southern California board of strategy in recommending Chester Kline for United States congressman and Joe Crail for the United States senate.

The endorsements, revealed today by Perry Mathis of Anaheim, president of the local board of strategy, were made after the candidates had appeared before them to tell of their stands on various matters of public importance, with their stand on the Eighteenth Amendment one of the main determining factors. Records of the candidates were thoroughly searched and taken into consideration as well as their declared platforms.

In addition to the candidates named above, the local board has endorsed B. Z. McKinney for representative from this district; Loyal K. King for the state legislature, 74th district, and James B. Utt and Robert Speed from the same district; Edward (Ted) Craig for the state assembly from the 79th district, and James L. Allen, Franklin West and Homer Ames for superior court judges in Orange county.

The Southern California board also has endorsed the candidacy of the Rev. Bob Shuler for Senator on the Prohibition party ticket and the Democratic ticket.

Local endorsements were not made on a party ticket basis.

ROSSO SELECTED AS AMBASSADOR TO U.S.

ROME, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Augusto Rosso, head of the League of Nations section of the Italian foreign office, has been appointed ambassador to the United States, the government announced today.

Rosso is 47, a bachelor and wealthy. He began his diplomatic career in 1910 when he held a minor post at Washington. He served at Berlin, Oslo and Athens until 1922 when he became counselor of legation at Washington. He is to succeed Nobile Giacomo De Martino.

242 METEORIDS IN FLASH ACROSS SKY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 12.—(UP)—A rain of perseids—meteors from the constellation Perseus—bombed the outer atmosphere and shot earthward early today.

Astronomers at Harvard observatory counted 242 of the flaming meteors, which flashed across the stellar spaces, leaving a brilliant train of light in their wake. The shower, beginning shortly after midnight, lasted until 4:30 a. m. E.D.T. The meteors were mostly bluish white and yellowish.

The annual contact of the orbits of the earth and Perseus was more spectacular than usual. The moon set early, darkening the sky to make a perfect setting for the stellar fireworks.

The perseid showers are mentioned in ancient Chinese manuscripts and an accurate record of them has been kept for more than 1000 years.

BONUS ARMY DENIED FARMS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—(UP)—President Ortiz Rubio has rejected the request of the American bonus army to establish an agricultural colony in Mexico. It was announced today.

He sent the following cablegram to Donak Carter of Huntington, W. Va., who made the request:

"Referring to your cable of August 8 requesting permission for 23,000 World War veterans to form a temporary colonization in some region of Mexico, the government deplors that it is unable to grant your wishes because it is now attempting to solve the problem of Mexicans expelled from the United States, now numbering about 300,000, by means of colonization on the land available, and because it would be unfair to give preference to foreign element rather than nationals, or to aggravate the situation of unemployed Mexicans."

TRADE REPORTS SHOW FEELING OF OPTIMISM

Wholesale Business Shows Business Better While Retail Holds Own

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Business reports from 55 leading cities show optimism gaining all circles, Bradstreet's analysis of trade said today.

The rise of stock and commodity prices have "made men more willing to do business," Bradstreet's declared. Trade, especially in the wholesale lines, has quickened perceptibly and retail trade has held its own during the past week.

"But it cannot be said," the review continued, "that such industries as steel, building and automobiles have shown any life as yet. They remain dormant in the large centers, despite the reports of optimism which leaders of those industries are giving out."

Following are the bright spots in business today:

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Air Transport passengers in the first six months of the year numbered 22,834, an increase of nearly 30 per cent over the corresponding period of last year, according to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

LOS ANGELES—General R. E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., here inspecting company's properties, stated that in his opinion "the most significant favorable business development recent has been the upward trend in commodity prices."

DETROIT—Chevrolet showed a gain of 13.7 per cent in the first six months of this year over corresponding 1931 period in sales of fleet cars and trucks for commercial.

POSTS REWARD FOR OPIUM SMUGGLERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The yacht Marabell, which figured in a desperate pursuit by coast guardsmen last year when she assertedly brought a huge shipment of narcotics to California, came to the front in federal records again today.

In an unprecedented order, the United States attorney general authorized District Court Judge A. F. St. Sure to post a reward for capture of six men who were said to have landed $500,000 worth of opium at Drake's Bay, Marin county, last fall.

Eugene Collier, San Francisco; Lewis M. Baker, Seattle; Lewis Ashlund, Andrew Hoagland, Martin Walsh, and Henry Rose were the men sought.

TRUSTY IN FOLSOM MAKES HIS ESCAPE

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Leland Greenwood, 36, San Francisco "trustee" assigned to the prison farm, was still at liberty today following an all-night search after he had turned up missing at the prison count late yesterday.

Greenwood, who was to be eligible for parole in November, despaired of getting a job in order to leave prison, it is surmised by Warden Court Smith.

He had been sentenced to serve 7 years for automobile theft. If he is caught, the penalty for escape will be disallowment of all credits and 5 years additional for the break.

The missing man is believed to have crossed the American river by swimming and "hid out" in the dense underbrush on the other side.

Mayor Quits His Job While Many Jobless

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Mayor Elmer Lucas has resigned because he "cannot conscientiously hold office while so many are out of work."

Lucas' resignation, tendered today, is effective Sept. 1, four months before expiration of his term. He is assistant cashier of a bank and believes that the $1000 annual mayor's salary should go to someone without other source of income.

EXECUTION OF REVOLT LEADER IS DEMANDED

MADRID, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The populace demanded General Jose Sanjurjo be executed immediately for his leadership of Wednesday's abortive revolution.

The fat, bald, mustached military leader, formerly associated with Primo Rivera, accepted the situation with stoic calm, even though mobs in both Madrid and Seville shouted for his head.

His son, Justo, came to him at his summer home in El Escorial, he said, and told him that he was needed to head the monarchist revolt.

"I agreed to it," he said, "and in spite of the disappointment I have suffered, I am not afraid to face its consequences."

The manner in which the revolt in Seville met defeat was explained today by military leaders. The outbreak in Madrid had been put down but General Sanjurjo was virtually in control of Seville when he decided by a bold stroke to attack the Republican government's advancing troops.

He summoned Col. Gonzalez Polanco, commander of the Ninth Regiment, to his headquarters in Seville and ordered that the rebel troops be sent out to meet the approaching soldiers.

Colonel Polanco flatly refused, declaring that his soldiers had joined the revolutionary movement only after General Sanjurjo had issued a proclamation stating falsely that the rebels had seized Madrid and were in control of the government.

"We have no intention of obeying you," Colonel Polanco said.

Shortly thereafter General Sanjurjo, faced with no alternative, disappeared from Seville, to be captured in flight a few hours later at Huelva.

COURT ORDER TIES HANDS OF GOVERNOR

Decision of Removing Mayor May Not Come Until After Fall Elections

STATE CAPITOL, ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Decision of the question of removing Mayor James J. Walker from office may not come until after the general elections. This possibility arose today when Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt announced he would not render a decision until the courts had been able fully to pass on his right to try Walker and to pass judgment on removal.

The governor announced this determination today after a court order had been granted earlier which required him to show cause why he should not be restrained from rendering a decision in the mayor's case.

The judicial processes involved may carry to the state's highest court the question of the governor's authority to sit as a court on charges of unfitness against Walker, arising from the Hofstadter city investigation.

Conceivably this process may last until after the general elections in which Governor Roosevelt stands as Democratic presidential nominee.

Hearing Hectic

This morning's hearing of the Walker charges was hectic. Walker's attorney sought to develop that Walker was shut off from fair examination of witnesses against him. Roosevelt insisted that the attorney confine himself to evidence. He held that he would be bound by the evidence, and would admit such of the Hofstadter committee's evidence as he thought proper.

Meantime, the governor proposed to continue hearing the charges. Should the court uphold the power of the governor to sit as judge and to pass on removal of Walker, then Roosevelt will eventually render a judicial ruling which either would keep Walker in power as mayor or cast him out as unfit.

Attorney General John J. Bennett will represent Roosevelt at the show cause order hearing before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Stanley August 19.

"The governor has asked me to inform Justice Hoffman that he would in no way show any discretion to the courts and would not decide the Walker case until after his powers had been defined," Bennett announced.

First Announcement

The governor's announcement, through Bennett, was the first outward cognizance he took of the ouster hearing and to postpone rendering of his decision.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 12. (To the Editor of The Register): Here yesterday was a good illustration of how these market boosters can pull a bad one. Yesterday farm machinery went up on the stock market. Now there is not a farmer in the United States that can pay his taxes or his groceries, now how is he going to buy any farm machinery. He has no more credit. If he wanted to he couldn't get a garden hoe, much less a threshing machine. He can plow with a forked stick and raise more than he can sell. So that raise don't look so hot. That's like Christmas trees going up at New Year's.

Everybody is trying to tune in on Seabury's being investigated by Walker. Our investigations have always contributed more to amusement than they have to knowledge.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

MAYOR WALKER DECISION MAY BE PUT OVER

until after Justice Staley acts on an application questioning his right to remove the mayor.

Sidney Levine, attorney representing George Donnelly, Bronx chamber of commerce secretary, contends that under the home rule provisions of the state constitution, the governor has no power to pass on Walker's fitness, whereas the governor hitherto has held that he is fully empowered under the state law.

This will be the first time the validity of the law has been questioned. A similar procedure was involved in the ousting of former Sheriff Thomas (Timbox) Tom Parley of New York, a case growing out of the city investigation.

Other governors also have operated under the law to remove city officials and no test case of the right, as it involves "home rule" has ever been made.

BURGLARS RANSACK HOUSE; GET $245

When Mrs. Glenn Yoder of 601 East Walnut street drove to the beach Thursday morning, burglars cut a screen on the back porch and completely ransacked the house, stealing $245 in cash, a ladies wrist watch and a tin of cigarettes.

When Mrs. Yoder returned about 4:30 p. m., she found the house all torn up and every drawer emptied. The money was taken from a dresser drawer and consisted principally of two $100 bills and another for $20. The money was payment of a judgment from a superior court decision on a damage suit for doctor bills and hospital expenses. The ladies wrist watch was the property of Pat Trotter, who accompanied Mrs. Yoder to the beach.

Officer A. T. Holmes investigated the robbery and questioned neighbors but no one had seen anyone near the Yoder residence.

COLUMBUS, O.—A burglar who broke into the home of Chester Cahill ran the wrong way. On entering the house, he met "Herbie", pet bulldog of the family. When he saw her he dashed back down the stairs right into the jaws of the dog. The dog dashed after the burglar and was missing for half an hour before he returned with a satisfied look on his face.

POLICE RADIO AIDS WOMAN AT LA HABRA FIND FRIENDS

Police radio service early this morning was responsible for an eastern visitor to the Olympic Games finding the home of friends in Pasadena.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning officers of the county fruit patrol picked up a radio call from La Habra to come to the aid of a woman stranded there. Officers Duhart and Tremaine, who were working in the north end of the county, responded and found a much bewildered elderly woman attempting to locate a Pasadena address.

It seems that the woman, who lives in Chicago, is visiting friends in Pasadena. Yesterday they attended the Olympic Games and became separated in the crowd. The eastern visitor rented a taxi-cab to take her to the home of her friends. After considerable driving the taxi driver reached La Habra, deposited his fare in front of the police station and sped away.

Believing that she was in Pasadena the woman asked police assistance in locating her friends. When the officers discovered her plight they used the radio and Officer Duhart and Tremaine took the woman to Pasadena and assisted in finding her friends.

Many Difficulties

At the same time we must recognize the difficulties which have developed in making the Eighteenth Amendment effective and that grave abuses have grown up. In order to secure the enforcement of the amendment under our dual form of government, the constitutional provision called for concurrent action on one hand by the State and local authorities and on the other by the Federal government. Its enforcement required independent but coincident action of both agencies. An increasing number of States and municipalities are proving themselves unwilling to engage in such enforcement. Due to these forces there is in large sections an increasing illegal traffic in liquor. But worse than this there has been in those areas a spread of disrespect not only for this law, but for all laws, grave dangers of practical nullification of the Constitution, a degeneration in municipal government and an increase in subsidized crime and violence. I cannot consent to the continuation of this regime.

Opposes Saloon

"I refuse to accept either of these destinies, on the one hand to return to the old saloon with its political and social corruption, or on the other to endure the bootlegger and speakeasy with their abuses and crime. Either is intolerable. These are not the ways out."

"Our objective must be a sane solution, not a blind leap back to old evils. Moreover, such a step backward would result in a chaos of new evils never yet experienced, because the local systems of prohibitions and controls which have been developed over generations have been in large degree abandoned under the amendment."

"The Republican platform recommends submission of the question to the States that the people themselves may determine whether they desire a change, but insists that this submission shall propose a constructive and not a destructive change. It does not dictate to the conscience of any member of the party."

"The first duty of the President of the United States is to enforce the laws as they exist. That I shall continue to do to the utmost of my ability. Any other course would be the abrogation of the very guaranties of liberty itself."

"The Constitution gives the President no power or authority with respect to changes in the Constitution itself; nevertheless, my countrymen have a right to know my conclusions upon this matter."

They are clear and need not be misunderstood. They are based upon the broad facts I have stated, upon my experience in this high office, and upon the deep conviction that our purpose must be the elimination of the evils of this traffic from this civilization by practical measures.

Changes Necessary

"It is my belief that in order to remedy present evils a change is necessary by which we resume a proper share of initiative and responsibility which the very essence of our government demands shall rest upon the States and local authorities. That change must avoid the return of the saloon."

It is my conviction that the nature of this change, and one upon which all reasonable people can find common ground, is that each State shall be given the right to deal with the problem as it may determine, but subject to absolute guarantees in the Constitution of the United States to protect each State from interference and invasion by its neighbors, and that in no part of the United States shall there be a return of the saloon system with its inevitable political and social corruption and its organized interference with other States.

American statesmanship is capable of working out such a solution and making it effective.

TUCKER ONLY CANDIDATE FOR LEGION LEADER

J. B. Tucker, local attorney, was virtually elected commander of Santa Ana American Legion Post 131 at the meeting in Legion hall last night when three other previously named nominees for the office threw their support to Tucker and withdrew from the race.

Commander Rodney Bacon, who took the place of William Penn when Penn was appointed to the city council, William Iverson, and Harold Brown had been nominated for commander at previous meeting but withdrew their names from the contest last night.

The withdrawals were made in the interest of harmony and for unified support of the commander. Officials declared today. Tucker was virtually elected commander, because there are now no more candidates for the office, although the election of officers will take place the evening of September 8.

Other nominations for post offices made last night are as follows: first vice commander, Frank Stowe, Harold Brown and Claude Sleeper; second vice commander, Harry Pickard and Robert Sanderson; adjutant, Arthur Eldred and Charles Leimer; chaplain, Ted Bolte, unopposed; sergeant-at-arms, Buck Fippes, George Sullivan and Peter Van Dam; members of the executive committee, Hal Ritter, Earl Hawks, William Wolaston, Ernest Winbigler, Harold Brown, Ed McPadden, Franklin (Brick) Grouard, Charles Nussbaumer, Harold Rasmussen, Maurice Enderle, George Richardson, Ed Allender, Frank Stowe, Frank Corey, Charles Swanner, Harry Pickard, Fred Earel and Ed Struble.

Mrs. Edith Ritter, principal of the Artesia school, gave a talk last night on Americanism, explaining the work done among Mexican children of the city. She also told of how lunches are served six days each week to undernourished children at the Julia Lathrop cafeteria with funds raised in a benefit show by the Santa Ana Breakfast club.

Ernest Winbigler, assistant business manager of the drum corps, announced that the corps would leave tomorrow noon for the convention at Oakland and had high expectations of returning with first prize in the competitions.

The following members are expected to attend the convention and are leaving Saturday for Oakland: Julius Markel, chairman of the delegation, Art Eldlund, Fred Earel, Robert Walker, E. S. Sullivan, Hunter Leach, William Iverson, Charles Leimer, William Welland, Dave Jellis, Melbourne Mabey, Allen Lester, Ed Maier.

tion of such an amendment. Mr. Hoover, giving his personal view, said he could not countenance continuation of a regime which has brought about the bootlegger and the speakeasy and organized crime, any more than he could countenance a return to the saloon system.

"Either is intolerable," he declared.

1.—Suggested Europe might pay war debts in some other form of compensation; perhaps by buying more American goods.

2.—Warned against radicalism and haphazard experiment.

3.—Pledged a fight on all fronts against depression.

4.—Accused Democrats of sponsoring wild inflationary legislation and a $2,000,000,000 raid on the treasury.

Although Mr. Hoover made a detailed defense of his reconstruction program, his prohibition stand overshadowed all other parts of his address.

Loudly Applauded

The prohibition statement was loudly applauded by the 4000 who jammed Constitution hall in one of the most brilliant political gatherings Washington has known in many years. Mr. Hoover received a four minute ovation when he entered the hall with Mrs. Hoover at his side. Throughout the address he was constantly interrupted by the enthusiastic throng.

His reference to President Theodore Roosevelt as the first advocate of the tariff commission brought a vigorous demonstration and the late rough rider's widow was obliged to bow repeatedly in acknowledgment of applause. Two other "Republican Roosevelt" were in a prominent box—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Mrs. Ethel Derby, daughters of the late president.

Mr. Hoover reiterated his sympathy with the "high purpose of the 18th amendment," declaring he had used every resource to make it effective, but that wet centers to an increasing extent had prevented full enforcement.

Opposes Saloon

"Our opponents pledge members of their party to destroy every vestige of constitutional and effective federal control of the traffic," Mr. Hoover said. "That means over large areas the return of the saloon system."

This is the first time during federal prohibition that a president has made any recommendation touching the 18th amendment.

European debtors were given a hint of easing the war debt burden. Mr. Hoover, while standing firmly against cancellation, said he believed the country would consider "some other tangible form of compensation such as the expansion of markets for American agriculture and labor, and the restoration and maintenance of our prosperity.

Mr. Hoover lashed out against radicalism and explained at length how the administration reconstruction program had conformed to traditional American principles of encouraging private self-help. He emphasized that a strong drive is under way to attack the depression on all fronts.

Mr. Hoover choked up when he discussed the suffering and misery caused by the depression.

"No man with a spark of humanity can sit in my place without suffering from the picture of their anxieties and hardships before him day and night," he said. "They would be more than human if they were not led to blame their condition upon the government in power. I have understood their sufferings and have worked to the limits of my strength to produce action that would really help them."

GARNER ASSERTS IT "DOESN'T MEAN THING"

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Passing through here enroute to New York to confer with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt on Democratic campaign plans, Speaker John N. Garner declared that President Hoover's new stand on prohibition "doesn't mean a thing."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee had not seen a copy of President Hoover's speech accepting the Republican nomination, but grinned broadly when portions of it were quoted to him. He was particularly interested in the account of Mr. Hoover's statement advocating a change in the 18th amendment.

"Just like their platform," he observed. "It doesn't mean a thing."

W. C. T. U. PLANS TO OPPOSE ANY CHANGE

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Ella Alexander Boole, president of the W. C. T. U., announced today, apropos of President Hoover's position for a change of the 18th amendment:

"We will oppose these changes every step of the way."

Meantime, the W. C. T. U. delegates gathering here for their convention opening tonight were uncertain as to what they will do concerning endorsements or lack of endorsements in the coming campaign. Indications were the organization's political efforts will be largely to support dry congressional candidates and oppose wets.

WILSON DISAPPOINTED

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, chairman of the Board of Temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, was "disappointed" at President Hoover's treatment of the prohibition issue, he said here today.

"The president's statement will not get the wet vote away from the Democrats who made a straight bid for it and got it," Dr. Wilson said. "It will not meet the moral conditions of the drys who elected him four years ago."

FISH UP IN AIR

An airplane was used on the Inyo National Forest to transport small fish from State hatcheries to new homes in the streams of the High Sierra. Forest Rangers report that the small fry arrived in fine condition.

ANTS KILL QUAIL

Predatory ants are blamed for the destruction of young quail, according to a report from the Tahoe National Forests. Ants sometimes attack the quail chicks immediately after they are hatched and consume them completely.

It is strange that men have thought of the grave as triumphant when it clasped their dear ones, and they were seen no more.

ARREST FOUR BOYS FOR ROBBING STORE

Four youths, ranging in years from 15 to 20, were arrested yesterday by county officers at Olinda after it was discovered that they had entered a general merchandise store in Olinda last Sunday and stolen assorted goods and foodstuffs.

The boys crawled under the building and pushed up some floor boards to gain entrance to the store, which is operated by C. M. Perrin. Most of the loss was in candy, pies, cigars and cigars, although one boy took a shirt and a pair of shoes. W. Harry Williams, Brea police chief and Chief Deputy Sheriff Art Eels and E. E. Perry, who made the arrests, were confident that the stolen property would be recovered, except that which was consumed in the store.

Two of the boys were on probation and their parents have asked that severe measures be taken. A fifth boy, only 8 years old, was dropped from the case when the older four boys confessed that they had threatened him if he did not enter the store with them. Perrin estimated the total loss about $15, although it was difficult to ascertain what had been taken.

AUTOPSY MADE IN BEACH DEATH CASE

Decision has been reached by Earl Abbey, county coroner, that no foul play was connected with the mysterious death of Charles D. Pratt, 68, San Bernardino contractor who was found unconscious in an auto cabin camp in Huntington Beach Wednesday night.

Although the dead man was found to have had two black eyes, two bumps on his head and other injuries, Coroner Abbey believes that the injuries were sustained when the man suffered a heart attack and rolled and fell on a bed. He was found beneath a bed.

An autopsy investigation was held at the Dixon Funeral Parlor in Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon by Dr. Elizabeth Tock, county autopsy surgeon. The case was also investigated by county officers and the coroner.

In spite of the fact that the man is now believed to have died from natural causes, his stomach has been shipped to Los Angeles for analysis to determine whether or not the stomach contained traces of poison. The body was removed to San Bernardino today pending funeral arrangements.

FLAMES TAKE LIFE OF FIVE YEAR OLD GIRL

Mary Jane Mitchell, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mitchell of Garden Grove, was dead today following fatal burns she suffered yesterday when her clothes caught fire.

The little girl was playing near an incinerator in the back yard of her home in Garden Grove yesterday morning when her clothing caught fire. Her parents, in the house, heard her anguished screams and rushed to her assistance, but too late to save the child from fatal burns.

Her father, John L. Mitchell, is vice principal of the Garden Grove Union High school.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow from the Gillogly Funeral home in Orange, where the remains were taken after the child died last yesterday afternoon at her home. The Rev. Floyd J. Seamon of Los Angeles, former pastor of the Methodist church in Garden Grove, will officiate at the services, which will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

In addition to her parents, the girl is survived by one sister, Ruth Leslie Mitchell of the Garden Grove home, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hackett of Los Angeles; her grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell who lives in the East, and a great-grandfather, T. J. Gilliam of Los Angeles.

CRAIL URGES SHORTER WORK DAY AND WEEK

Declaring that the first concern of the government at this time should be for the 10,000,000 American citizens who are out of work and the 20,000,000 more dependent upon them for support, and that its next concern should be the welfare of those 50,000,000 more who lack economic security, Joe Crail, candidate for congress spoke last night over the radio.

"The mistaken notion that home owners are paying taxes to the federal government has been encouraged by certain groups which pay large income taxes and surtaxes to the national government. These same groups insist that the sole purpose of government is the protection of lives and the property of its citizens.

"I cannot subscribe to such a policy. It turns back the clock of progress at least 100 years. Life and property should be protected, but property is only one of the rights which a just government should guarantee, and life is of little value without those rights which the founders of this Republic proclaimed as sacred and inalienable. Modern civilization requires that the sacred duty of any just government shall be to protect and to promote the political, economic and social well-being of its citizens."

Commenting on the unemployment situation he said that in this day of modern improvements and labor saving machinery a shorter work day and a shorter work week is the solution to the problem. This, he said, will equalize the demand and supply of labor, and assure a job for every citizen who wants to work. He said that there is no authority in America today which has the power to equalize the supply and demand for labor.

"I believe," he said, "that our congress, or some authority created and controlled by congress, should have this power, thus guaranteeing that there shall be no distress on account of unemployment."

He also struck at business monopolies that keep the individual citizen or little fellow out of business.

Immigration restrictions as a means of relieving the unemployment situation are advocated by Crail. He said that because of lower living conditions thousands of Mexican peons come to the United States without any intention of becoming citizens and offer unfair competition to American labor in the matter of wages.

Mexico, he said, should be placed upon a strict immigration quota basis, along with the Philippines. Crail said that there are 85,000 Filipinos, without families, in California who are taking jobs from American citizens because of their lower wage bid. They are making it almost impossible for colored American citizens to find employment and should be excluded from admission to this country as are the Japanese and Chinese. This could be achieved, he said, "were the United States to give the Philippine Islands the political independence to which they are justly entitled."

Orange Mexican Attempts to Use Knife In Fight

Orange came nearly being the scene of another knife battle shortly after noon today when police arrested J. Attilio, of Cypress street, Orange, and lodged him in jail on charges of intoxication.

When police arrived on Cypress street, they found several men holding Attilio, who was trying to draw a large, sharp kitchen knife from his pocket with the apparent attempt to "carve" another Mexican with whom he had been fighting.

The other participant in the battle is being sought by police. Attilio will appear before Judge A. W. Swartz this afternoon on the drunk charge.

S. A. GOODWILL INCORPORATES; EXTENDS SCOPE

Complete independence in management and responsibility and an increased field of endeavor to include the whole county was attained by the Santa Ana branch of the Goodwill Industries of Southern California last evening by completion of incorporation of Goodwill Industries of Orange county.

Officers of the organization are: T. E. Stephenson, president; Dr. George A. Warner, vice president; Mrs. Loyal King, secretary; W. A. Taylor, treasurer and J. Winterbourne, superintendent. Other members of the board of directors are: the Rev. O. W. Reinold, Alex. Brownridge, B. V. Curry, the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, Sam Voght, M. B. Youel, J. A. Cranston, the Rev. C. M. Aker, Martin Warren, Ralph Smedley and J. W. Estes. F. H. Blair represents the board of Goodwill Industries on the directorate.

The Santa Ana Goodwill was established eight years ago next December in a very small way, in an old building on Logan and Stafford streets, and has developed until it has taken a definite place in the welfare activities of Santa Ana and is now reaching out to include the entire county. From an organization employing two local people and ministering to a few needy ones, it has grown until an average of 25 to 30 local people now find a means of livelihood within its walls. Last year nearly $18,000 was paid out in wages, rent and incidental expenses and the present year will go considerably beyond those figures.

"The Orange County Goodwill Industries will be affiliated with the Bureau of Goodwill Industries, as is the Los Angeles institution but will be strictly a local institution in the interest of and for the benefit of Orange county unfortunate and needy citizens," said the statement announcing its incorporation. "It is a non-profit organization, no member of the board receiving any pay for their services, excepting the superintendent who is devoting all of his time to the advancement of the institution. All wages of employees are controlled by the board of directors. Should any surplus accrue in the regular process of the business such surplus will be administered by the board in the interest of the needy people of the county. The books of the organization will always be open for the inspection of any one interested and an annual audit will be made and a report published for the information of the public."

"The policy of the institution will be as always 'Not charity but a chance' and this chance will be given in such a way as to develop independence on the part of the helped. All articles collected will be sterilized and reconditioned by the corps of employees before being placed in the stores for sale. The sale price will be just as low as possible consistent with solvency and in the second place by furnishing employment to as many handicapped and needy local people as the income will take care of, paying as good wages as possible without endangering bankruptcy."

"The success of the enterprise for the past years has been largely due to the loyal support of the friends of Santa Ana and surrounding territory and the able and advisory committee coupled with the appealing idea of the Goodwill Institution of rendering aid to needy ones in such a way as shall place them on their feet and strengthen their character rather than to pauperize them."

ORGANIZATION TO BE FORMED FOR MEXICANS

Sponsored by the Orange County Unemployed association, a mass meeting of Mexican citizens of the United States, who are residents of the Santa Ana district will be held next Sunday evening at Fremont school. The meeting will be opened at 7 p. m. Announcement of the meeting was made yesterday from headquarters of the Santa Ana Unemployed association, by Charles Seber, vice chairman.

According to the announcement music will be provided by the Sol Gonzalez orchestra. The Rev. Garcia T. Lucero and Gonzalez will preside as master of ceremonies and temporary chairman.

According to T. A. Broderick, who made the announcement, the meeting is being called for the purpose of aiding all American born and naturalized Mexican citizens to help themselves. Officers for the group will be elected Sunday and a constitution under which they can operate will be adopted.

Broderick said that there are many children in the families of Mexican citizens, who are not receiving sufficient food and are badly in need of clothing. Appeals have been made to the Santa Ana Unemployed association for help, and a separate organization was considered the best method for assistance. Under that plan members of the new group will organize their own commissary to care for their needs, he said, and will be given an opportunity to affiliate with the county-wide group.

Frank Morris, chairman of the county association will be one of the speakers at the Sunday meeting and will offer the cooperation of that body.

Lucas Lucio, representative of the Mexican Consul in Orange county and head of the Mexican benefit society here has been invited to attend.

SAYS CHARGES MADE AGAINST HIM ARE FALSE

Declaring that statements made by his opponent in an ad in a Santa Ana weekly publication issued today were false and untrue, and that this publication had refused to sell him space in its columns to answer the charges made by his opponent, B. Z. McKinney, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, today issued the following statement:

"So far in the campaign, I have endeavored to conduct my campaign for congress on a high plane and without personalities. The statements in the political advertising of my opponent contained in the Santa Ana Bulletin of August 12, are absolutely false and untrue. My friends throughout the district know them to be false and untrue. Hadtaller himself knows them to be false and untrue."

"The charge that I am more concerned with the attitude of Mr. Burke than in loyally supporting the Democratic ticket is also untrue and is made for the sole purpose of trying to alienate some of my friends and supporters."

"I have talked to Mr. Burke only two or three times during the entire time he has been a resident of Santa Ana and publisher of the Register. In many things he has advocated I have agreed with him, and in many things I have not, but should he for any reason support me in my candidacy, I would welcome such support the same as I would from any other person throughout the district."

"I refuse further to be drawn into personal controversy and will continue in the future to conduct my campaign on the same impersonal basis as heretofore. If I cannot be nominated for the office I am seeking on August 30 on my own merits, record and qualifications alone, I want to assure the people of the district I will not try to win it by slinging mud at my opponent."

AVOCADO MEN IN CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

Santa Ana and nearby communities of Orange County Acres, Tustin, Lemon Heights and Orange are opening their big avocado sign-up canvases today to enlist local growers as near 100 per cent as possible in the Calavo Growers' Cooperative marketing program for next season, according to C. V. Newman, district director. Already this district is noted for its high percentage of growers that by cooperating, rather than competing, are finding their best returns today, according to association officials.

Almost 500 additional acres owned by some 117 growers already have enlisted this summer throughout Southern California in the cooperative marketing program.

That the growers' marketing program will handle the highest percentage of any crop on record next season is now believed more than assured by the grower in-charge this summer, bringing today's membership total to 1852, compared with but $41 two years ago last month, an unprecedented gain, and one which will not only bring even more effective marketing for grower members but additional cuts in operating costs per unit. With prospects that local grower markets will be as flooded or even more so next season, the exchange will probably move a larger portion of its better grades of fruit in the east, where dealer service work is expected to again bring the highest net returns.

The local committee includes C. V. Newman, H. F. Eberle, J. K. Hermon, Richard T. Hubbell, Ray Lambert, W. B. Lockett and W. W. Taitinger. Santa Ana; C. Ross Atherton, F. H. Collins, William McPherson, C. E. Squires, Orange; Charles J. Lamb, El Modena.

Announce Church Service Topics

COSTA MESA, Aug. 12.—"God's Fire in Zion" is to be the morning sermon topic of the Rev. W. I. Lowe of the Community church Sunday. At the 7:30 o'clock evening service, the theme will be "God's First Emigrant."

A short sermon for children will be given preceding the morning sermon. Special music by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Grow S. Brown will be presented.

El Modena Exceeds Quota In Drive for Health Camp Fund

Characterizing subscriptions to the Children's Health camp in the Santiago canyon as investments in citizenship rather than donations, K. O. Baker, director of the camp, spoke over KREG last night. He stressed the fact that the camp program builds youngsters into strong, vigorous individuals who can shoulder their share of the community burden when they become adults. He pointed out that tuberculous children are not admitted to the camp, the function of which is to give the kiddies the best possible chance to resist disease before it makes an attempt to reach them. The appeal, he said, is to endow 24 additional beds at the camp so that the children on the waiting list may be taken care of.

While Baker was speaking, the El Modena volunteer organization reported that subscriptions and cash totaling $70 have been received there. The quota was $50. This has been exceeded by $20 under the chairmanship of Douglas Marshburn. At Villa Park, solicitation has just started under the leadership of John Ragan.

MULROONEY ENLISTS PUBLIC AID IN DRIVE ON RACKETEERS; NOW IS TIME FOR FINAL BLOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—This is "Swat-the-Racketeer" season in New York, and should be in every other city, according to the boss of the nation's biggest law-enforcement army.

For Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney says that Old Man Depression already has many of the racketeers hanging on the ropes. Kid Racketeer is weak and undernourished, scared half to death, and trying desperately to stave off destruction. Since it's a free-for-all fight, it is a fine opportunity for a few public-spirited citizens to step in and administer the final blow.

Toll Is Cut
Two years ago the State Crime Commission estimated that legitimate business here was paying nearly $400,000,000 annual toll to the racketeers. Police officials doubt the accuracy of that figure, but they do know that a very small fraction of it would account for all the commercial extortion that is being carried on today. Organized gangs have been broken up. Men have been sent to prison. Complaints received by the New York Board of Trade and the police department have greatly diminished.

"But all the credit cannot be claimed by the police department," said Commissioner Mulrooney. "The depression has done most of the good work. Rackets are parasites of prosperity, when competition is keen and the need for speed makes businessmen careless. Today there is less revenue for racketeers to cut in on. Hard times also have strengthened the moral fiber of business. When a man is on the verge of bankruptcy he is much more likely to defy criminal activities. If paying a racketeer means going into receivership, he is going to prosecute that racketeer and take a chance of becoming a victim of gang vengeance."

Cooperation Sought
The commissioner pointed out that police departments usually are powerless to take the initiative unless racket victims are willing to go into court to aid the prosecution. But police are doing an important educational work—first, in calling for public aid in attacking crime, and second, in guaranteeing protection to those who are courageous enough to appear against criminals.

"There are 20,000 men in this department," continued Mulrooney, "and we stand ready to guard a man, his family and his business day and night, no matter what the cost in money or man-power. Proving that we can and will do this successfully has given courage to more and more people who a few years ago never would have dared identify a criminal or testify against him in court."

"It was a vicious legend that had been built up about the power and vindictiveness of so-called organized crime. But the depression is teaching the public that it can call crime's bluff."

Mulrooney, who rose from a patrolman's beat to become one of the most internationally famous of police officials, is the originator of a city-wide campaign appealing to citizens to aid the police. Posters call attention to the protection offered by the cruising radio-equipped patrol cars; also the importance of immediately reporting suspicious incidents or persons. Instructions are offered on how to call the police quickly, and what details should be observed and reported.

The response has been astonishingly great. Of course, there have been scores of false alarms and hundreds of trivial annoyances reported. But the police don't mind because they also have had dozens of more reliable tips.

Now's the Time
Not long ago nearly all of New York's big industries were being preyed upon by racketeers. From milk to millinery, fish to flowers, the retail buyer paid high prices which were split with extortioners. If you wanted to put up a building, you paid to the plastering racket, the plumbing racket and many another—or your building might be bombed or burned. If you sent your clothing to a laundry you paid, indirectly, an extra amount for assurance that acid wouldn't be tossed into the washing machines.

Such conditions, while they still exist, are less prevalent than they were a few years ago. In some cases industry itself succeeded in casting out the racketeers. In others, police guards turned the trick. Victims began to come forward.

TAX RATE IN L. A. HELD AT LOW POINT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Los Angeles county taxpayers will benefit to the extent of a 23 per cent reduction in their tax bills for the fiscal year 1932-33. This material reduction was made possible through action of the supervisors in holding the tax rate to 88 cents, the same as last year, despite a cut in assessed valuation of the county of approximately $750,000,000.

The supervisors, in achieving this saving for taxpayers, made material reductions in departmental expense and transferred $2,000,000 from the unappropriated reserve fund and $3,500,000 from surplus cash. The board has made a total reduction in the 1932-33 budget compared to 1931-32 of approximately $10,000,000 bringing the figure to approximately $750,000,000.

DISGUISED

Three does with horns paid the penalty of their masculine disguise during the past hunting season. One was killed on the Sequoia National Forest and two on the Modoc National Forest, according to reports from the forest supervisors.

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 12.—An interesting program featuring "China" was presented this week at the monthly Women's Home and Foreign Missionary meeting which sponsored the annual Young Peoples' service. Mrs. J. R. Peterson, Young Peoples' Counselor, assisted by Miss Lillian Arnett and Miss Margaret Edward and Mrs. T. E. Turpin took charge of the program, while Mrs. O. B. Byram read a late letter from her son and wife, Mrs. Roy and Bertha Byram which gave in full details of a native Korean wedding.

Several more mite boxes were handed in at the meeting by members bringing the total mite box offerings for this month and last to more than $10. As the quarterly dues of the society must be sent in by September 1, all members who have not returned their boxes were asked to do so before that time.

Owing to the special event, refreshments, which are ordinarily banned by the society, were served, Mrs. M. J. P. Hell and Mrs. C. G. Carter acting as hostesses. They served tea, coffee and wafers.

The following were present: Miss Margaret Hosack of Oceanview; Mrs. Hanna Francis, Stanton; Mrs. J. L. Edward, Miss Margaret Edward, Mrs. R. E. Larter, Mrs. T. E. Turpin, Mrs. F. J. Grandy, Mrs. C. CITY-COUNTY PLAN APPROVED BY BEACH BODY

Directors of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce favor the single unit county government plan, according to the opinion of directors expressed at the regular meeting of the beach chamber which was held late yesterday.

It was pointed out that there are 260 tax-fixing bodies in the county at the present time and that if the county and city governmental bodies were consolidated it would eliminate a great deal of expense and would result in but two tax-fixing bodies in addition to school officials.

The matter of the city of Huntington Beach obtaining a special charter form of government was brought before the directors by Herb Gray and Lew Mitchell, who read a prepared plan. Benefits to the city would accrue through a more business-like form of government with the employment of a city manager and the government would be in closer contact with the public, they said. The directors took no action on the matter.

J. F. Lawshe of the Huntington

Beach company announced that the dance pavilion on the beach, owned by the company, would be thrown open to the use of the public by application through the chamber of commerce.

Directors voted to inform the city council of their opinion that there are too many signs on beach concessions.

MANY SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO BE ABANDONED

By MELVIN LORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—

(U. P.)—The day of the little red school house is definitely past in California.

Recognizing the advantages of consolidation of school districts, both from the standpoint of economy and education, school authorities have led the way for larger educational needs.

The most recent move in this direction is the announcement of Visiting Kersey, state director of education, that 29 elementary school districts in 19 different counties will have to be suspended or lapsed by action of the boards of supervisors.

This action must be taken because the districts maintained an average daily attendance of pupils for the last school year of five or less.

At the present time there are 2318 elementary school districts in California including 42 in Orange county.

Improved transportation facilities have made possible the establishment of larger educational units, and the concentration of population have been responsible for the trend that has gradually seen the abolition of the small school units, Kersey said.

State records show that 49 elementary school districts have been abandoned during the last two years.

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CONFIDENTIAL

James Francis Burke died the day before he was to have sailed abroad on a secret mission for President Hoover. The mission involved the foreign debt situation.

Three portfolios of confidential documents pertaining to his trip were still in President Hoover's hands when Burke died. They were to have been delivered to Burke later in the day.

A new confidential agent of the President probably will be selected immediately to make the journey. There appears to be need for haste.

Burke died with his lips tight concerning his venture. He insisted it was to be a pleasure trip. Sound information concerning his plans came from another source. The exact nature of Burke's undertaking is the subject of speculation in the royal White House circle. It is supposed to be known only to the President and Burke.

Apparently Burke was supposed to inform the French concerning the domestic political situation to save any possible war debt embarrassment to the Administration during the campaign. That information, however, is no more than apparently good conjecture.

Burke was one of the few trusted henchmen Mr. Hoover has left. His loyalty to the President and to the Republican cause made him an ideal man to do all manner of confidential work. He occupied a much higher post in inside government than is generally known. He will not soon be replaced.

STOCKS

The highest officials were very much worried over the stock market early in the week.

Having fretted themselves sick all summer because stocks were too low, they began frowning because they were going too high.

The Administration's liaison officer with Wall Street, Gov. Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve, is supposed to have tried to make the bulls show a little restraint. They insisted the market was being carried away by European investors and the American public. They claimed the situation got out of their hands last Monday.

SHORTS

The funniest sight in all Washington now is to see a member of the Attorney General Mitchell playing golf daily in his R.V.D.'s.

He belongs to the millionaire's golf club, Burning Tree. It has only fifty members. They have affected the style of playing in shorts. The Attorney General is following the style, wearing only abbreviated cotton pants. He is as brown as an African.

Modest Senator Capper of Kansas also belongs to the same club but there is as yet no record of his appearance in anything except long trousers.

COTTON

The Government's private information is that cotton prices will go still higher.

Its estimate of a 6,000,000 bale decrease in this year's crop is presented as conservative. Ravages of the boll weevil and too much rain may soon boost that figure.

Eugene Meyer's commodity price pool ought to make money.

RIVALRY

The White House thought it was a dirty trick for Gov. Roosevelt to stage his Jimmy Walker show on the same day as the President's notification speech. It realized that public attention would be distracted from Mr. Hoover by the dramatics in Albany.

The Republican publicity men swore they would get back at Roosevelt for that at the first opportunity. They are preparing to break a big news story the next time Roosevelt makes a campaign speech.

NOTES

The exact number is 180 marines on guard at President Hoover's camp. It looks like a regular army post. Franklin Roosevelt's new book "Government—Not Politics" comes out for Heaven, Home and Mother in a big way. They are selling it at $1 per copy in order to gain the widest circulation. Out of nine candidates for Governor in Georgia, one is a former inmate of an asylum and ward of his wife. Silk underwear has become a leading issue in the campaign. One candidate charges another with wearing it, thus not helping the cotton producers. From such insignificant beginnings are statesmen born. They say Louis Howe appears to have equal authority with Chairman Farley in running the Democratic campaign. Howe is Roosevelt's confidential man. It looks now as if no political candidate can get along without at least one.

COMMODITIES

Plans for the "Commodities Credit Corporation" are progressing behind the scenes. Local banks fail to register white heat enthusiasm for the proposition as a business project but the political values cannot be ignored.

Banking opinion is generally agreed that its practical operation would bring at most a temporary spurt of commodity buying followed by a new lull. If a firm borrows money and buys raw material for a year ahead it will be practically out of the market for a year thereafter. But the temporary spurt should logically bring a jump in prices which would undoubtedly help Republican chances. As one bank official points out, a 50 per cent rise in wheat would be more valuable to Mr. Hoover than a 200 per cent rise in stock prices.

The question of who is going to put up the money is moot. One local bank official says: "I am not a gambling man, but I am willing to stake a large round nickel that the R.F.C. will be in on the picture before it's finished." Another cloudy detail is the matter of inducing manufacturers to borrow in order to buy raw materials. There has been no rush of prospective applicants for credit.

The banks are notably uninterested in staking the purchase of Farm Board holdings. One comment runs: "First the Republicans try to relieve the farmer with a Farm Board, now they have to relieve the Farm Board in order to relieve the whole country." No matter how the details work out, it's a cinch that the commodity speculators are going to have loads of fun for a couple of months. That may kite prices enough to do the trick.

COTTON

Informed opinion is extremely skeptical about the government cotton estimate of 11,306,000 bales. The most pessimistic private estimate showed a minimum of 12,000,000. This is not the first time that presidential election year cotton estimates have been surprising but the showdown will not come until after November.

Eugene Meyer's bullishness on cotton isn't going over so well here. His batting average as a prophet is far from perfect. It is said that he may not have lost his shirt but it seems to have shrunk a bit in the past two years' market.

WALKER

Roosevelt's friends here expect a dramatic gesture at the end of the Walker hearing. They say he will make the most of an unusual opportunity. Those not so friendly say he should have acted a month ago—that his delays have proved the point that he isn't the man for these pressing times.

If Walker is removed, chances are that nothing more will be heard of his candidacy for higher office. Instead it is a good bet that Jimmy will capitalize his "martyrdom" in next year's mayoralty election. Grover Whalen thinks he can then take the nomination away from the boy friend.

ROOSEVELT

The plan to have Democratic state organizations run their own campaigns was supposed to relieve the national party exchequer. The idea is to concentrate such national funds as are available in doubtful states. If demands for aid are any criterion, there are a flock of doubtful states.

Wall street got its biggest laugh in years out of the published claims of Democratic commitment that the bull market was due to a belief in Roosevelt's election. Many factors contributed to the rise but Roosevelt was distinctly not among them. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

New Summer Signal gives COOL KNOCKLESS MOTOR

Warm Weather Increases Knocking
-Knocking Causes Overheating

Signal engineers have discovered the cause of hot, sluggish motors and combated it. Read these interesting facts.

Overheating—the cause of power and mileage loss, poor acceleration—is traced directly to gasoline which feeds too rich a fuel mixture to the motor after it is warmed up. This causes improper combustion.

New Summer Signal Gas, perfected by a special cracking process, is so refined that it vaporizes completely. There is no excess gasoline drawn into the cylinders, even when operating in hottest weather.

Thus, Summer Signal gives perfect combustion at all times—resulting in a smooth, full-powered, cool-running knockless motor.

Try a 10-gallon test, sold with an iron-clad money back guarantee.

Coming in for service. . . . A mountain mother bringing in her family to a Frontier Nursing Service clinic in the Kentucky mountains.

Debutantes who went to work. . . . Miss Ethel Bartlett of New York (left) and Miss Susan Morse of Weston, Mass., on the job in Kentucky. . . . Miss Bartlett, incidentally, was one of the first two girl couriers.

So the Society Horsewomen Went to Work

Instead of riding in horse shows, they patrol an 800-mile area in the Kentucky mountains, saving lives in frontier nursing service

By
CARL WARTON

HUNDREDS of young women popularly identified as members of the nation's smart set are virtually tripping over one another these days to land hard jobs with no pay—jobs which consist to a considerable extent of grooming horses, taking care of stables and serving as all-around "errand boys" in a tangled wilderness where ordinary folk would almost certainly get lost.

They are embarked on a mild stampede to be accepted as volunteer couriers for the Frontier Nursing Service, which means at least six weeks of exacting manual labor in one of the most primitive regions of the United States—the Kentucky mountains.

Not since the World War, when ambulance driving and kindred forms of battle-line service held forth an allure, has any volunteer activity so appealed to young American womanhood as has this new development, the locale of which is at the moment restricted to Kentucky, but which will sooner or later expand until it embraces all of the nation's "forgotten frontiers."

This is a term sloganized by the Frontier Nursing Service to designate those remote areas of the country where midwife conditions are unbelievably inadequate and to the improvement of which the Service has dedicated itself. The organization was founded by Mrs. Mary Breckinridge in 1925 and sponsored by philanthropic men and women in all parts of the United States. It has now become a very busy group.

It may seem incredible to the layman when he is told by leaders in this movement that America is still a frontiersman's country for no less than 15,000,000 people—dwellers in the fastnesses of the Appalachians, the Ozarks, parts of the Rockies and on some inland wastes and island possessions.

BECAUSE of the lack of health safeguards the mortality rate among babies and mothers has been alarmingly high—200,000 babies and 20,000 mothers annually.

The Kentucky mountains were just about the "forgottenest" frontier of all, so the organization began its work there, making a patch of about 800 square miles in the heart of the Appalachians its laboratory and demonstration field. The inhabitants are of old American stock, honest, fearless and hospitable.

At that time the area did not have one resident physician. Today there are nine district nursing centers, 31 trained nurse midwives who ride horseback night and day over rough mountain trails, bringing hope and comfort to the log cabins in the hillsides and along the creek beds. They have presided over 1000 births with only two maternal deaths.

Stories of the courage, daring and sacrifice of these nurses during times when the mountain streams were swollen and travel was perilous, have found their way into the public prints from time to time. Mrs. Breckinridge herself was thrown from her horse on one of the icy trails last December, and on account of a serious back injury is forced to remain a few months in her mountain hospital instead of campaigning for funds, which are sorely needed.

Miss Elizabeth Boardman of New York . . . one of the first two girls to act as couriers in the mountains.

THE appearance of the country's young social buds in this rough-and-ready picture came about more by accident than design.

Mrs. Breckinridge discovered at the outset that a variety of odd jobs was wasting the precious time of her nurses. She therefore invited two youths, one of them a relative, to come to the mountains during the summer vacation and serve as couriers. For three summers they came and their work proved of value.

Meanwhile Mrs. Breckinridge was making occasional trips north to raise funds for the Service. Groups of well-to-do and interested persons, as a rule the socially prominent, frequently invited her to describe the work. At one of these meetings she alluded to the two boys, and the work they had done, in an incidental way.

Mary Chase, of Milton, Mass. . . . who found where Owl's Nest Creek was.

Jane Ewell of Worcester, Mass. (left), another society girl serving as courier in the mountains.

That really started it. What boys could do, young women could do. And in no time at all Mrs. Breckinridge was listening to the pleadings of Junior Leaguers who saw in this rough mountain work something more exciting and useful than bridge and teas. Moreover it had its romantic appeal.

The upshot of the matter was that in the spring of 1930 Miss Ethel Bartlett and Miss Elizabeth Boardman, the daughters of prominent New York families, laid away their costly party gowns and smart riding habits and were off for Kentucky with a bagful of blue jeans and flannel shirts.

THAT was the beginning of the parade.

Since then a score or more of these purposeful young women, most of whose names will be found in the social registers of their respective communities, have gone to rough it in the wilds. And every girl-Jill of them has made good.

Just to mention a few—there are Miss Josephine Yandell, of New York and Greenwich, Conn.; Miss Carmen Mumford, of New York and Riverdale-on-the-Hudson; Miss Beatrice Terry, of New York; Miss Hope Foote, of New York; Miss Cynthia Beatty, of Skaneateles, N. Y.; Miss Sarah Dubois, of Dubois, Pa.; Miss Jane Elwell, of Worcester, Mass.; Miss Cynthia Badie, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss Anne B. Houghton, of Milton, Mass.; Miss Susan H. Morse, of Weston, Mass.; Miss Mary Chase, of Milton, Mass.; Miss Rosamond Rust, of Boston; Miss Susan Dette, now Mrs. Hollbrook, also of Boston, and many others.

One of the major qualifications required of a young woman seeking to be a courier is that she must be a good horsewoman. A large number of the younger smart set are that. They own their own horses in numerous instances and have spent much of their leisure time in the saddle.

A newly accepted courier gets her first taste of the robust days to come when a native taximan who has jounced her over five miles of rough road from the last railroad point, which happens to be the little mining town of Hazard in Perry county, brings his decrepit vehicle to a jerky stop and informs her that this is Hurricane creek—where she gets off!

SO off she gets, wondering—wondering why in heaven's name he happened to select this particular blob of jungle to dump her out in. Far from revealing any distinguishing marks for purposes of orientation, it is, as one returning courier remarked, "just a cipher with the rim torn off."

Her coming having been expected, however, she is presently greeted by two experienced couriers assigned to escort her to Wendover, headquarters of the Service, which lies some five miles down Hurricane creek. They have brought an extra horse. Thus begins the newcomer's first experience in traversing this desolate area.

The duties and responsibilities are varied. Couriers are in charge of the stables and all the horses therein sheltered. Sometimes there are as many as 18 or 20 to care for. They groom the animals and supervise their feeding. It is for them to detect sores and soreness developed on the rough trails and to treat them properly.

On her first day at Wendover every courier is given a typewritten set of regulations pertaining to the care of horses, as well as a veterinary textbook which she is importuned to study. Couriers must see to it that harnesses and saddles are in proper condition at all times and when a nurse is called out on a case, be it noon or midnight, it is the courier's duty to do the saddling, see that saddle bags are properly equipped and otherwise to facilitate her departure.

What the Frontier Nursing Service does. . . . A nurse-midwife on the job in a mountaineer's cabin.

THERE is no work too menial for these girls to undertake. They do it gladly. A stableman is employed, but when and if he is absent for any reason whatever it becomes the function of the courier to care for the stable itself.

But care of the horses, important and time-consuming as it is, together with an array of lesser duties such as painting tables and chairs and running sundry errands in the immediate neighborhood of headquarters, are largely routine. It is another sort of duty which supplies the adventure and romance.

The nine districts are so dotted about the area that to make the rounds of them one must ride 100 miles on horseback. After two weeks of training each courier is required to make this pilgrimage alone.

NO courier has fallen down yet. One of the best examples of the resourcefulness and straight thinking which these girls have brought to the work, is to be found in the experience of Miss Mary Chase, a Radcliffe student who resides in Milton, Mass. She returned not long ago from a six-weeks' tour of duty.

This girl's first assignment, after an unusually brief training, was to go to the cabin of one Bill Feltner on a creek 12 miles away and bring in the 7-year-old daughter of that mountaineer for treatment at the clinic. How to get there? Here were the cryptic instructions hurriedly written and passed her on a sheet of paper:

"Go upstream half mile. Cross first ford. Watch for road up sheer side. Fifty yards to Owl's Nest creek then upstream one mile. Then up sharp right trail long way to first house. Ask for Feltner's."

Those who have troubles following automobile road maps and sign posts over a network of modern highways will promptly agree that these instructions were at least sketchy. And so they were. But Miss Chase found her way—and finished the job in schedule time, bringing the youngster in as directed.

YOUNG ANAHEIM COUPLE TAKES NUPTIAL VOWS

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—Marked with the charming simplicity of a home wedding, Miss Magdalena Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Wells of 128 South Melrose street, became the bride of Harold Birchler of Anaheim, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents. The service was read by the Rev. Virgil K. Ledbetter, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church. Only relatives of both families were present.

The rooms of the home were banked with baskets of pentstemon, cecel brunner roses, dahlias and amaryllis and formed an effective setting for the entrance of the wedding party.

Before the ceremony Miss Margaret Wells, sister of the bride, sang "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg, accompanied at the piano by Miss Pearl Birchler, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a smart spectator outfit of white crepe and carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses. Mrs. Fred W. Hein, as the matron of honor, wore a white and blue spectator sports frock and a corsage of pink roses.

Fred W. Hein attended the bridegroom as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the bride and groom and the guests by Mrs. Wells, mother of the bride and Miss Margaret Wells.

Present besides the new Mr. and Mrs. Harold Birchler were Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Birchler, the Rev. and Mrs. V. K. Ledbetter, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hein, Miss Margaret Wells, Miss Pearl Birchler, Louis Birchler and Leonard Connov of Santa Ana.

Anaheim Police News

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—With chicken thieves around in the city two more residents reported the loss of chickens to the police department yesterday. Vic Rudy of 117 North Clementine street complained that eight chickens had been taken from his chicken yard. Upon investigation of the police footmarks were found indicating that in all probability a boy wearing new tennis shoes had made the theft.

Mrs. A. Bevilard of 207 North Emily street reported at the same time that one Rhode Island Red chicken had been stolen from her place. Footmarks of the thieves were also to be found in her neighbors' yards although no chickens were missed, owing probably to the pens being locked.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—Because he is a minor Roger Zimpelman of Santa Ana has been returned from the Anaheim justice court to the Santa Ana juvenile court on the charge of reckless driving that was made against him by Harriet Switzer of Santa Ana.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—K. Takenguma, Japanese, paid a $25 fine yesterday in the Anaheim justice court on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor during a recent Japanese festival. Takenguma pled guilty to the charge.

CHANTERS GIVE FINE PROGRAM IN CITY PARK

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—The well directed "chanters," a male chorus of 25 voices, and the "Meistersingers," mixed chorus of 80 voices, rendered an interesting repertoire of classical and semi-classical music last evening when they were presented in the amphitheater at the city park in the series of summer concerts. Although the audience was smaller than it has been at any time this season, owing to the coolness of the weather, the 2,500 who were present were enthusiastic over the program and enjoyed the crispness of the summer moonlight night.

Sydney E. Irving directed the choruses from San Bernardino and his composition "Awakening" played as a piano solo by Leslie Maloche, proved one of the highlights of the program. It was executed with skill and feeling. Maloche also played "Hungarian 10th Rhapsody" by Liszt.

The soprano soloist was Antoninette Satalone and while she had a charming stage personality and a good voice it did not have an outdoor carrying power. She sang, "Mountains" by Rachach and "Aria from La Traviata" by Verdi, the latter bringing the artist much applause. For an encore she sang "Under the Lilac Tree" and later rendered the solo role of "Beautiful Savior" as it was presented by the "Chanters."

The male chorus sang two groups of songs, the first group including "Pale Moon" by Frederic K. Logan, "The Winter Song" by Bullard, "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn and "The Wind- ing Road" by Spross. In the latter group they sang, "When the Roses Bloom" by Richard, "Dancing Boy" by Salter, "I'm a Wanderer" by Gaines, "The Anvil Chorus" by Verdi and "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen.

Following the intermission the "Meistersingers" sang "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffman" by Offenbach, "Tantum Ergo" by Gluck, "Awake! Awake!" from "Die Meistersingers" by Wagner and "Hall Bright Abode" from Tannhauser by Wagner.

HEALTH AND WORK
CHICAGO—Work is healthful for those between the ages of 17 and 45, but after that age the physical toll shortens the span of life. That is the report of Dr. Albert Bachem, professor of biophysics in the University of Illinois School of Medicine here. By regulating jobs so that the younger men could work and the older men retire on insurance and pensions, it would do a lot toward remedying unemployment, the scientist believes.

B. & P. W. CLUB HOLDS MEETING IN CITY PARK

ANAHEIM, Aug. 12.—The Business and Professional Women held a pot luck supper last evening in the city park where 20 of the members gathered for the summertime informal occasion and later attended the concert in the park.

While vacation notes were compared among those present many of them discussed tentative plans for attending the state convention that will be held at Yosemite National park on September 9 and 10. Kate E. McCullah is the delegate from the club and Robbie Anderson, who will be installed president before that time, will represent Anaheim. The two alternates are Mary Alice White and Helen Diller. Among others who are tentatively discussing plans for attending are Sarah Fay and Ruth Taunton.

A board meeting of the organization will be held on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the president, Reta Schweiss and all business for the present fiscal year will be completed.

BILLY SUNDAY'S

OWN LIFE STORY

The Sawdust Trail

For the first time Billy Sunday writes his own life story! He tells:

▼ How bitter poverty sent him to an Iowa Orphan Asylum at the age of 12.

▼ How he became the star right fielder for "Pop" Anson of the old Chicago Cubs.

▼ How he was the first man to run the bases in fourteen seconds.

▼ How a chance corner-evangelist meeting led him to forsake baseball and turn preacher.

▼ How he "stole the show" at a famous performance in the New York Hippodrome.

▼ How his buckshot style of preaching has made countless thousands hit the Sawdust Trail.

Late News From Orange County Communities

BREA GROUP IN EFFORT TO GET AIRPLANE BASE AT BEACH MEET

BREA, Aug. 12.—At the Brea lunch yesterday, James Carmichael, president of Fullerton Chamber of Commerce and chairman of Brea Airplane Base committee, was the main speaker. In the absence of President W. E. Fanning, Vice President Ralph Barnes presided and the chairman of program committee was Ray Roberts. Two large zeppelins on the table and place cards to match gave an atmosphere in accordance with the subject.

Walker Davis introduced the topic for the day, the proposed air base for Southern California, and Brea's suitability of location for this base. "Let's Field" and introduced the speaker Mr. Carmichael of Fullerton who told the Lions club and members of Brea Chamber of Commerce present, the progress made by the committee up to date in securing the proposed air base, announced to be located in Southern California, for Brea.

Mr. Carmichael said that the committee appointed about a week ago had been busy. They had contacted C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, Senator Shortridge, President Arnold of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, George Raymer, secretary, also Anaheim, Fullerton and Placentia chambers of commerce, and had been assured of the backing of all these people in an effort to secure the location of the proposed base in Brea. William Loftus has offered for use a strip of land two miles long and two hundred feet wide, it was announced.

It is understood that there is no file in Washington all data in regard to this location. The members of the committee who have been active in this recent work were chosen at the city council and Brea chamber of commerce combined meeting Wednesday evening August 3 and are James Carmichael, chairman, Walker Davis, Oliver Crowell, W. A. Culp, A. O. Andrews, L. A. Hogue, Major Harry Lee, and Assemblyman Ted Craig's name was added to this list on Thursday noon.

The visitors present from the Brea chamber were A. O. Andrews, president; E. M. McDonald secretary, Harry Massey and Ted Craig, who announced in brief remarks their best support and efforts for the project; George Friend, Brea's postmaster and E. E. Long who spoke in behalf of Anaheim saying it was "one hundred percent" for the Brea base.

Following the speeches, the program chairman had provided an entertainment of three accordion solos by Bob Close and a dance by three young ladies, Wilma Williams, Betty June Grant and Evelyn Mae Strickland, accompanied at the piano by Jimmie Dean McCabe, all local talent.

Complete Laying Of Gas Pipe Line

SANTA ANA, Aug. 12.—The Southern Counties Gas company has completed the laying of two miles of 12-inch main in the Spanish Village, according to W. A. Ayer, who had charge of the inspection work for the city. It is estimated the job cost the company more than $20,000. San Clemente labor was used on the construction of the main.

TEACHER FROM INDIA SPEAKS AT BEACH MEET

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 12.—A fair representation of the membership of Christ Church by the Sea was out to the regular bi-monthly fellowship meeting at the chapel in Balboa to a pot luck dinner. The evening meeting was preceded by an afternoon meeting of the four circles of the Women's Aid society of the church who stayed over for the evening services.

The women of the air groups headed by their leaders Mrs. F. E. Russell of the Newport Heights group, Mrs. Alfred Smith of the Newport Beach group, and Mrs. Maude Henry of the Balboa Island group looked to the service at the dinner. Mrs. S. A. Stowell of the Corona Del Mar circle was absent.

A social period followed immediately after the dinner and this was followed by a worship hour at which time Lahuna Clinton, lady superintendent of the Johnson High School of Jubbulpore, India, spoke.

Mrs. Clinton is an aunt of Miss Emma Bronstein, teacher in the primary department of the Newport Beach grammar school here. She is visiting in this country while on a furlough and will be going back to her work in India again soon. An offering of $10 was raised among those present at last night's meeting and given to Mrs. Clinton to take back with her to use for the school work.

FAILS TO MAKE GET-AWAY AFTER STALLING CAR AND RUNNING DOWN PIG ON ROAD

FULLERTON, Aug. 12.—After a search of nearly 24 hours, Eugene Kunz, of 2391 Locust street, Long Beach, was arrested on a felony charge yesterday afternoon by Los Angeles county state patrolmen, after his car had been located by Walter Meyers, Orange county state highway patrolman, at the corner of West Orangehorpe and Nicklett avenue, where Kunz had parked it after it had stalled on him in his trying to make a get-away.

Kunz, whom it was found later had been responsible for the injury of Mrs. Lucretia King of 518 Bellflower, had parked his car there, with assistance of a resident of West Orangehorpe, who found him stalled in the middle of the road at 10 p. m. Wednesday night, the engine being frozen.

This neighbor, Charles Keele, took Kunz to his home after Kunz had told him he had run over a pig about a mile down the road. Keele found the pig, did not examine the car closely, and took the man home.

When Patrolman Meyers examined the car he found that running over a pig could not have caused all the injury that was evident. He found particles of glass that looked as though they were from the tail light of another car sprinkled around the engine of the car. The radiator was smashed in, which had caused the engine to over-heat, also, and the car was badly damaged on the left side as though it had sideswiped something.

On investigation, he found that Los Angeles officers were hunting that particular car. The driver had crashed into the back of a car driven by Mr. King at the Pacific Electric crossing at Center street, Bellflower, badly damaging the King car as well as injuring both Mr. and Mrs. King, elderly people.

The Pacific Electric train had only just crossed the street, or the King car would have been crushed between the Kunz car and the street car.

It was in this get-away, about 15 miles from the scene of the accident, that Kunz ran over the pig and after another mile run, stalled the car with a frozen engine. Appearances were that he had also had another accident, when the left side of the car got damaged, it was said.

FULLERTON, Aug. 12.—The Merchants Division of the chamber of commerce will assist in celebrating the North Orange county official opening of North Spadra road and the state highway to La Habra, which is being widened and re-surfaced and is about ready for use, it was announced today.

The celebration, August 23, will be at Hillcrest Park, Fullerton, on the new road, where after a family picnic supper, the jubilee will open at 7:30 p. m.

City councilmen are assisting and have ordered enough new picnic tables made to accommodate the crowd that is anticipated, and merchants will provide coffee and a fruit drink.

The celebration will be on to the hill in the picnic grounds. Merchants division at the luncheon meeting yesterday voted also to hold a family picnic for themselves and families at the park August 30.

FRATERNITY MEETS AT SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Aug. 12.—The Delta Chis, the Long Beach chapter of the Sigma Gamma Pi, held a dinner dance at the Rustic Inn Tuesday in honor of Keeney Sebring and Donald Helmer, who were initiated into the fraternity. Judge George Bush gave the group a talk on the early fraternities, especially of Stanford fraternity, which was the first in California. The fraternity song was sung by all the members.

Those attending were Harlan Sears, president; Donald Jackson, vice president; Jack Girard, secretary and treasurer; Lewis Graham, Francis and Ellsworth Galla, Clifford Caeland, Randy D. Lathan, Martin Wright, Alan Hansler, Keeney Sebring and Donald Helmer.

NOTE INCREASE IN READERS AT BEACH LIBRARY

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 12.—Newport Beach and Balboa is pointing with considerable pride to their public library since the annual report of the institution was made public several days ago when Mrs. Lorna Tilton, librarian, presented the report to the city council at their last meeting.

The statistical portion of the report shows that during the year 1931-32, 53,964 books and magazines were circulated, while in the preceding year but 45,020 were circulated, showing an increase in circulation of 13,944, and the records further show that 2134 patrons took out cards in the year 1931-32, which was almost double the number taken out during the previous year. It was also noted that not only do these patrons take out books and magazines but many of them come to the library regularly to read certain papers and reference books that are not allowed out of the building.

One outstanding event of the year was "Book Week," at which time the theme "Round the World With Books" was worked out in the selection and arrangement of a series of books about peoples of all parts of the world.

Another event that has drawn many children to the reading rooms is the "Children's Story Hour," a period that is given up to the children every Saturday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock with Miss Janet Wilson in charge.

The library is open daily from 1 to 9 p. m. excepting on Sunday.

GASOLINE AND ROAD TAXES TO BE DISCUSSED

County taxes in general and the request by mayors of the various cities and the Farm Bureau for the distribution of a portion of the state gasoline tax fund and reduction of the county road tax from 40 to 10 cents, in particular will be discussed tonight at a mass meeting to be held in La Habra at the Washington school. This meeting will convene at 7:30 p. m. and will probably center its discussion on the mayors' and farm bureau recommendation.

La Habra is one of the two communities that has not yet joined in the request that the board of supervisors divide 32 1-2 per cent of the state gasoline tax fund among the cities and out the county road tax rate to 10 cents.

It is probable that the entire proposition will be laid before the people from that community and adjoining communities for an expression before next Tuesday when the supervisors are expected to deliver their decision on the proposition. The delay in acting on the request of the mayors and Farm Bureau, made last Tuesday was caused by the board's request for a written opinion on the matter from the district attorney.

Riggs (Old Hoss) Stephenson of the Cubs became so excited over the appointment of Charley Grimm as manager that he had a nightmare, dreaming that all his folks in Alabama were drowning in a big well, and his roommate, Grimm himself, had to wake him up with a glass of cold water administered externally.

Jack Sharkey was merely speaking for sound effects when he announced in Boston that he would really like to fight Johnny Ricks.

President Bill Veeck's insistence that Vince Barton be given another chance as an outfielder after Hornsby had quit on the latter opened the breach that led to dismissal of the Rajah.

The illness of "Chick" Hefey cost the Cincinnati Reds 16 ball games and about $150,000 in gate receipts.

NOT SO MUCH FUN

Primo Carnera isn't so ambitious for a ring career since he has been tossed in with small fry at small clubs for small change.

Jay Paul Andrews, the pitcher sent by the Yanks to Boston in the deal for Danny MacFadden, probably will turn out to be the best pitcher involved in the trade.

Chuck Klein finds Dazzy Vance the toughest pitcher he does business with in the National league.

Gene Sarazen and his manager expect to split $300,000 in the next three years.

John McGraw, feeling much better now, watches the Giants in their game at the Polo Grounds, but no one is able to discover his point of vantage.

"Dizzy" Dean has been living up to his name in a different sort of way lately, the other clubs knocking him dizzy.

JOE BEARS DOWN

Joe Sewell is smacking those home runs in order to win a bet from his pal, Earle Combs.

The guy who is preventing collapse of the Braves is "Rabbit" Maranville.

"Chick" Hefey bought a case of Canadian ale while he was recuperating in Canada, but declared he left nine bottles behind him when he rejoined the team—which brought forth from Hughie Critz the remark, "Yeah, and I suppose you hunted bears with buggy whips!"

Jack Hendricks, who always blamed Hornsby for his dismissal as manager of the Cardinals, did not cry at all, but bore up very well under the news that the Rajah had been fired by the Cubs.

PRETTY GOOD JOB, TOO

Hornsby directed the pitching of young Lon Warneke almost entirely this season, and that means almost every ball the young man flung.

The signing of Waite Hoyt was not such a dumb move by Bill Terry.

Cleveland threw away its chances for a pennant this year when the club moved into the new stadium because the chief sluggers haven't the driving power needed for long hits, and the outer ranges are a fast outfielder's paradise.

Twenty Grand really will be back in these breaking race horse's hearts again in a short time.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

Whittier at Santa Ana; Torrance at Long Beach; Huntington Beach at Anaheim; Olive at Westminster.

Whittier invades Santa Ana's Bowl tonight to semi-officially close the 1932 National Night league baseball season.

Although Santa Ana and Olive clash tomorrow in a game postponed from a week ago, all other conference clubs wind up their programs this eve—Huntington Beach at Anaheim, Olive at Westminster, Torrance at Long Beach, and, of course, Whittier here.

It has been an uneventful season, but with smoother sailing than last summer when ten teams started and only seven stumbled across the finish line in mid-August.

Santa Ana made a joke of the first half and Anaheim a runaway of the second half but, in spite of the total absence of a red hot pennant race, fan interest held up remarkably well. The two champion cities made money and the others, by judicious juggling of schedules, managed to weather the countrywide financial storm and at least break even.

Whittier, one of the teams that has had to watch dimes, is helping balance its books, for instance, by transferring the Santa Ana conflict from Whittier to the Municipal Bowl. Baseball business has not been so good in Whittier and the Poets hope to pick up added shekels from more interested Santa Anans.

Incidentally, Whittier expects to blast Santa Ana out of second place. The Poets were one of four teams that took turns beating the Stars in succession last quarter, and with "String" McDonnell's arm in good condition again they hope to repeat.

McDonnell has been playing first base in recent games but probably will be on the mound tonight. Otherwise a youngster named Collins will do the slinging.

Ira DeBusk probably will toil for the Stars, leaving Joe Cornelius the burden of turning back Olive for second place tomorrow.

George Lackaye, who will have charge of the club again after a week's illness, plans no changes in either lineup or batting order.

Right field the only unassigned station, probably will be operated by "Rory" Merrill.

Twenty Grand really will be back in these breaking race horse's hearts again in a short time.

U. S. Women Finish 1-2-3 In High Dive

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The United States got off to a great start in the swimming events of today's program of the 1932 Olympic Games when its three entrants took the first three places in the women's high diving final.

Dorothy Poynton, 17-year-old Los Angeles schoolgirl, was an easy victor, scoring 40.26 points in the four compulsory dives of the competition.

Second was Georgia Coleman, another Los Angeles girl. Miss Coleman two days ago won the Women's Olympic springboard title. Miss Coleman scored 35.56 points.

Making it a completely local event, a third Los Angeles girl, Marion Roper, took third place. Her score was 35.22.

That the bunching of four doublers in five days on the road wrecked Pittsburgh's pitching staff and caused the Pirates to go into a nose-dive when they were well on their way to the pennant.

Neck-and-Neck Finish?

That Brooklyn and the Cubs will hit the home stretch in the National league race neck-and-neck and that "Hack" Wilson, Danny Taylor and "Lefty" O'Doul, ex-Cubs, may turn the tide to the Dodgers.

That the Athletics wouldn't be trailing the Yankees if Grove, Freitas, Bishop, Cramer and Coleman hadn't been injured.

That Al Simmons, Aie outfielder, is sick and tired of hearing Shibe park fans boo him and wants to play with the White Sox so he can be near his Milwaukee home.

That Elias Funk, White Sox outfielder, would be one of the greatest players in the majors if he could hit and that Smead Jolley, Red Sox outfielder, would be the same if he could field like Funk.

Trains on Pavement?

That Rollie Hemley, Cubs' catcher, would be the best manager in the league if he would tend strictly to baseball and go to bed nights.

That 9 out of 10 baseball writers believe Vernon Gomez is a greater pitcher than Bob Grove, and adding that 9 out of 10 scribes never had much use for Grove, who snubbed them when he was unbeatable.

That "Hack" Wilson, who was railroaded by the Cubs and peddled by the Cardinals, has made the biggest comeback of the year and that Freddy Lindstrom, Bill

Hornsby's Admirers Think Cubs Lay Down on Him

GROVE DISLIKED BY SCRIBES

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Some high spots, personal opinions and press box chatter on the major league baseball season:

That Hornsby's admirers think the Chicago Cubs lay down on him, and that they will break their necks to win the pennant for Charley Grimm just to show up Hornsby, who said they weren't good enough to cop the flag.

That Babe Ruth, crippled leg and all, is still the deadliest hitter and smartest player in baseball.

That Jimmy Fox won't win the home run crown but won't break Ruth's record of 60.

That Washington has the smartest and best defensive team in baseball, but that the Yankees have the most power and pitching strength and consequently will win the pennant and then the world series.

TO INTRODUCE NIGHT RACING HERE AUG. 20

Sports fans of Orange county were assured a new form of competition today when it was revealed that night motorbike racing of the English style, which has taken the nation by storm, opens at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl Saturday night, Aug. 20.

Introduction of the sport here is sponsored by the Los Angeles Motor Sports association, headed by Floyd Clymer, Jack Henderson and Norman Hartford.

These men have made a success of the sport at White Sox park, Los Angeles, where crowds of 4000 gather weekly for thrills and spills.

Yesterday the American Motor-cycle association, with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, wired sanction for the opening event.

S. A. in Chain of Tracks

E. C. Smith, secretary of the National ruling body, was greatly enthused over Santa Ana joining the Southland chain of tracks which includes San Diego, White Sox park in Los Angeles, Neptune Beach, Santa Barbara and other ovals.

Commenting on the inauguration of the English system of racing in Santa Ana, Smith declared, "The entire motorbike racing world will be glad to hear that Orange county again moves into the spotlight of our competition. Years ago, when traffic officers sponsored the famous hill climb at Capistrano, Santa Ana and the entire county held the world's stage with thousands gathering for the huge annual event."

In the English system of racing, the riders, all professionals, race on a short track, one-fifth of a mile around. The turns of the course are not banked, which makes for skids and scares. The real thrill of the sport lies in the broadsiding of the turns by the pilots.

Thrills Promised

With their motors screaming, the speed kings fly down the straightaways in a group. They are given the "go" flag by the starter. And then into the first "corner" they go. Thrills are said to come thick and fast as they whirl the turn, broadside, with their tires in one continuous skid.

Henderson, Clymer and Hartford are veterans of the motor-racing champion himself and veteran Orange county fans will remember him as three-time winner of the Capistrano hill climb and of the Pikes Peak climb. Henderson has been identified with the motorcycle game, on and off, for 15 years. Hartford is former publicity director for Ascot Speedway in Los Angeles.

For the first race, one week from Saturday, such stars as Minky Wain, American champion; "Red" Murch, New Jersey star; Ted Morrow, the "Fresno Flyer," and George Lannom, the "Lone Wolf" of the motorbike pack, will lead a group of 40 riders in an assault on speed records.

Incidentally ball players and fans will be glad to learn that utilization of the Municipal Bowl for motorbike racing will not, in any way, injure the ball diamond. Games are held at White Sox park and other diamonds the day following the races.

Delhi Victor To Ask Recognition As State Champ

The winner of the Steve Strilich-George Maloney wrestling match booked at the Delhi arena next Thursday night will appear before the State Athletic commission requesting recognition as California's light-heavyweight champion, Promoter Elmer Willson announced today.

There is no official light-heavyweight champion in California, according to Willson, and as each man is willing to meet all-comers in his division in order to prove his right to the crown, it is the logical step for the commission to name the victor state champion, he added.

Strilich began strenuous training today for the coming battle and smart wrestling observers look for the "Terrible Swede" to score a sensational triumph over his Irish rival.

Although the Strilich-Maloney match tops Willson's four-hour program a deal of local interest centers in the three other matches. Mustapha Pasha faces Brick Mayne in a three-fall, one-hour bout while Dr. P. A. Mullikan, another title claimant travels the same route against Johnny Clancy.

The opener shows the former Mexican middleweight idol, Bert Collina in his new role. Collina draws Marshall Aguirre, Filipino light-heavyweight mat king in a one-fall affair.

Trade Lefthand Hurler For Four Baseballs

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 12.—(INS)—Major league managers take note. Here's a baseball deal that is a baseball deal.

Needing baseballs with which to proceed with a scheduled game, but being without funds to purchase same, the Muskogee club of the Western association last night traded George Hubbel, a southpaw, to the Hutchinson club for four baseballs.

Muskogee then won the game, 12 to 2.

California in Poor Position But Favorite

BY STUART CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—(UP)—An equitable international division of spoils in the rowing championship, an American victory in women's swimming, and a Japanese triumph in men's tank competition were promised today as the Olympic Games neared a close.

Qualifying races for rowing supremacy have resulted in a well rounded placing of the entries of many nations in the boating finals to be contested today and tomorrow.

America, represented by the University of California, was still the eight-oared favorite, with Great Britain possibly the most serious rival of the powerful American eight. Italy's blue-shirted and light-stroking boatload was the dark horse, while Canada, winner of one of yesterday's repechage races, loomed a dangerous threat.

Italy Draws Best Lane

A severe blow to America's hopes for a victory in the eight-oared shell, to be contested at Long Beach Saturday, was given when the draw for lanes was announced. Italy drew the sheltered No. 4 lane while the United States was placed in the rough, unprotected No. 1 position.

Cambridge, Great Britain's entry, all but rowed its heart out in a futile effort to overhaul the surprising Italians in the first eight-oared test. The British, however, came back yesterday to score a decisive triumph and earned a place in the final today.

Australia, with its great Bobby Pearce, was favored in the single sculls, with Bill Miller of the United States his most serious rival. Miller won yesterday's repechage (this term, by the way, means "second chance") race in the singles. Finals of this event were to be rowed today.

Germany and the United States advanced to the finals of the four-oared without coxswain, and on Saturday will fight it out with Great Britain and Italy, winners of the original race in this division.

U. S. Four Eliminated

The American four in the race with coxswain failed yesterday to reach the finals which will be rowed by Poland, Italy, Germany and New Zealand.

America also was eliminated in the pairs without coxswain. Finalists in this event are Great Britain, Poland, Holland and New Zealand.

Germany and Italy yesterday qualified to compete with Canada and the U. S. in the double sculls. The first competition in the pairs with coxswain will be the final of this event to be rowed today. Only four nations entered this event. They are the United States, Brazil, France and Poland.

In the men's swim events, Japan yesterday nominated the men's 200-meter breast stroke, the 1500-meter free style, and the 100-meter backstroke.

The American men's swim hero of the day was Ralph Flanagan, 14-year-old Florida boy, who won his heat in the 1500 meter.

Crabbe Beaten in Heat

"Buster" Crabbe of Los Angeles, winner of the 400-meter free style, also advanced in the 1500-meter tests, but was beaten in his heat by Kusoo Kitamura of Japan.

The United States failed to qualify in the 200 meter breast stroke.

Robert Zehr and Robert Kerber were the Americans to qualify in the 100-meter back stroke.

Eleanor Holm, the pretty Folies girl from New York, swam true to form in winning the women's 100-meter backstroke, the only final swim event yesterday. Miss Holm also bettered the formally approved Olympic time for the event. She won in 1:18.4, which, however, was lower than the world and Olympic mark of 1:18.3 she set in qualifying.

International amity again was to be threatened in Olympic boxing competition as the semi-final and final rounds neared.

The United States, Argentine, South Africa and Italy, 1928 games team champion, were represented

BIRTHDAY OF ORANGE GIRL IS OBSERVED

ORANGE, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Wilber Lentz was hostess at a merry party Wednesday afternoon in her home, 363 North Center street, honoring the ninth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Lorraine.

During the afternoon various games were played. Indoor games included a jelly bean guessing contest won by Norma Short and a bean contest won by Mary Jane Gibson. Following, several outdoor games were enjoyed, with Marjorie Short winning the potato race. The Olympic motif was used during the refreshment hour, when guests were served at a long table in the dining room. A circus tent topped with American flags was the centerpiece, and at either end of the table were rings symbolizing the five continents. Favors at each place were decorated with flags of all nations. The menu served included ice cream and a birthday cake. The latter was lighted with tiny red candles, whose flames were blown out by the young honoree.

Those present were Margaret Burke, Cella Aufderberg, Marilyn Peters, Pauline Myer, Frances Taute, Ruby Lois Einspahr, Mabel Liernann, Martha Hansinger, Marjorie Short, Norma Short, Patty Lou Benson, Betty Mae Frerking, Jessie Wagner, Violet Krueger, Violet Hall and Mary Ann Lentz of Orange; Marilyn Nordeen of North Long Beach; Anona Gentry, Long Beach; Lila Rose Richards and Vera Head of Garden Grove, and Mary Jane Gibson of Hollywood, and the honored guest, Lorraine Lentz.

Wonder Whose Picture Will Be Hung?

ORANGE, Aug. 12.—Friends of Thomas Green, local real estate dealer, are wondering what action will be taken by him in the event a Democratic president is elected this coming fall. As each president has been elected since Green opened his office here, he has had the successful candidate's picture framed and hung in his office. Green is a staunch Republican, and to date but one Democratic president picture is hung on his walls. This picture is of Woodrow Wilson. Hoover's picture now has the place of honor on one side of the office. Besides presidents of recent times, pictures of Roosevelt, Lincoln and Washington have been framed and hung. The pictures are of more than life size.

Mrs. Pearson was formerly Miss Vera Elizabeth Peers, a resident of Pasadena for the past three years. The marriage took place in that city, with Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Orange Presbyterian church, officiating. The ceremony was performed on the Rev. Mr. Pearson's birthday anniversary.

Mr. Pearson is well known in this city, where he was pastor of the First Presbyterian church from 1916 to 1924, when he retired. Since that time he has been active in church work, the Men's Community Bible class and other organizations.

The speaker explained that by the latter plan voters first, second and third choices in the list of candidates.

The speaker said that he believed that the city manager plan for large cities was a most successful one and that it gave cities a business-like administration.

Dr. Cook, who is in Southern California with his wife to attend the Olympic games, gave his impression of these events. He declared that he thought it a most remarkable thing that athletes of many nations could live in harmony in the Olympic village and to participate in the games with so little friction. This harmony was prophetic of international harmony among nations, he declared. M. M. Fishback who is the visitor's host, was program chairman. Dr. Cook is the professor of education at the university.

ADVANTAGES OF CITRUS PRORATION AGREEMENT TOLD BY FRUIT GROWERS

Citing advantages of the citrus proration agreement which was cancelled after withdrawal of member organizations, directors of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, today released an official statement as to that organization's policy in regard to withholding fruit from the market.

Declaring that with the large level by withholding fruit from market while other shippers move their fruit, it is, therefore, necessary that Exchange shippers move their fruit in such a manner that they ship their full proportion of the total shipments from the state based on the percentage of the crop which they control. No other policy would be fair to Exchange growers, nor would it be good business for them to hold a larger percentage of their fruit from market than other shippers who have refused to bear their share of carrying out a program of shipment control.

"There seems to be some anxiety as to what the Exchange marketing policy is for the balance of its Valencia crop, now that other shippers have discontinued their cooperation under the Valencia Proration Agreement."

"The Exchange greatly regrets the discontinuance of that agreement. The results obtained are clearly shown by the advance in the market of over 40 cents a box on the average during its operation and due in large measure to it. This should convince every Valencia grower that the plan itself was worthwhile and points the way up to all growers to the necessity of united grower action in marketing their crop."

"Since 1925 Exchange shippers operating through their distribution committee have endeavored as best they could under the different conditions prevailing each season to systematically regulate total orange shipments from California, keeping the total California supply in so far as Exchange shippers collectively could control it in line with the consuming capacity of the markets. This program has unquestionably improved growers' returns over what they would have been in any year without the stabilizing influence of such regulation. The necessity of regulated shipments and orderly marketing was never greater than now."

"It is not possible with a large crop, such as California has this year, for Exchange growers to bear all the burden of protecting a price

FRENCH MUSIC FEATURED AT BAND CONCERT

The Santa Ana Municipal band under the direction of D. C. Cianfoni, assisted by the Santa Ana Municipal chorus presented a concert at Birch park last night before a large and very appreciative audience which was very liberal in their praises. The program for the evening features French music.

The colorful march "Le Concours de Montbuel" by Langlois, was the opening number. This unusual march which may be characterized by its brilliant allegro and staccato passages was made doubly attractive by the rich melody which was carried through it. The march was followed by the beautiful Overture from "Mignon" by A. Thomas which received a spontaneous ovation.

The selection from the opera "Faust" by Gounod claimed an outstanding place among the various compositions of the evening's program. The band rendered this number with artistic skill and interpretation. "La Voix des Cloches" A. Lugini, a descriptive composition revealed the glorious beauty and full rich tone of old chimcs. The musical climax of the evening was the impressive performance of Bizet's "Carmen." The selection chosen by the band was taken from the last act of the opera.

Again favoring the Santa Ana audience in these summer programs, the Santa Ana Municipal chorus offered two selections. Their first number was "Tingle-Ingeln" from "High Jinks" by Primi. It was followed by "The Message of the Violet" from the "Prince of Pilsen" by Luder. These two selections were sung by the chorus by their usual artistry and impressed the audience by their skill in the performance of crescendos and diminuendos. The rendition by the chorus was followed by the Trio from "Attila," an impressive number which has never failed to thrill music lovers.

A "musical joke," "The Jolly Musicians" by C. Muscat brought contrast into the program causing the audience to laugh along with the musicians. The program of the evening was brought to an impressive close by the March "Notre Drapeau" (Our Flag), the composition of Amadei. It was played by the band in a highly effective manner bringing out the patriotic national anthem "La Marseillaise."

Those lovers of German music will rejoice to learn that the concert of next Thursday evening will offer the compositions of such famous masters as Brahms, Schubert, Wagner and Von Weber in a most select and representative program.

EROSION

Erosion has modified the surface of the earth more than the combined activities of volcanoes, earthquakes, tidal waves, tornadoes, and all the excavations of mankind since the beginning of history, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The fact that it proceeds slowly, usually taking a thin layer at a time, does not in the least alter the impoverishing effects of erosion, speeded up by man and operating through long periods of time.

Charging habitual intemperance to the extent that it interfered with the conduct of his business Mrs. Anna L. Nelson filed suit for divorce yesterday from Lawrence P. Nelson. She is also asking reasonable alimony. The couple married December 2, 1924, in Redwood City and separated June 13, last.

COUNTY GROUP ON PROGRAM FOR ATHLETES

Olympic Games athletes were entertained last night by an Orange county orchestra and a Santa Ana dancer in one of the special programs arranged for the participants in the games by the official entertainment committee.

More than 100 members of the Orange County School orchestra, composed of students from the various schools of the county, under the direction of W. G. Axworthy, made the trip to Olympic Village in a caravan of private autos. Only members of the orchestra were permitted to enter the Village however.

The dancer who appeared on the program in a unique number was Telitha Irene Dahl, pupil of the Putnam Dancing school and of Ollie Mae Matthews, violin instructor. She did a toe dance while accompanying herself on the violin.

The Orange county entertainers were invited to remain for the rest of the program, including motion pictures and radio stars.

Expresses Thanks For Cooperation At Benefit Show

A statement was made today by A. D. Comito, in charge of the recent Metro Hi-jinks which was staged at the high school auditorium this week as a benefit for the Unemployed association of Santa Ana, expressing appreciation to The Register and others who aided for assistance given in making the affair a success.

"Upon behalf of the Metro Studios of Dancing and Dramatic Arts, I wish to sincerely thank the Santa Ana Daily Register for the valuable space afforded publicity concerning the benefit show at the high school, on Tuesday, August 9."

"To the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, local No. 594, of the West Coast Theater, who through Mr. George Vest, donated their thoroughly efficient services, as well as countless pieces of properties and lighting effects, we are deeply indebted, for without them, the Hi-jinks could not have been as successful as it was."

"We also owe to a large extent, a vote of thanks to C. O. Cartwright, and Milton Foster for the cooperation of the West Coast orchestra, for without a good orchestra, there could have been no successful performance."

"Richard Fleming, chairman of the Unemployed association amusement committee, labored incessantly with us. We thank Mr. Fleming, as well as Mr. R. J. Reynolds, who sold approximately one-third of the total tickets issued to the Unemployed association."

"To everyone who had taken an active part in the staging of the Hi-jinks, thanks sincerely."

UPPER HARBOR AT NEWPORT MAY BE UTILIZED BY NAVY FOR AUXILIARY SHIPYARD

That Newport Harbor may, in the near future, be considered for a navy ship building yard was intimated at the last meeting of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce.

The word was taken to the consideration of the Brea site, meeting by W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, who asked that the Placentia organization co-operate with himself and county organizations in making the possibility a fact. According to Carmichael the Navy is considering locating the shipyard in the back harbor at Newport.

He also asked co-operation in securing the selection of Loftus airport, east of Brea as a dirigible base. He has been elected chairman of a committee from the Brea Chamber of Commerce to secure

According to advice received yesterday from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the organization that has kept in touch with the Navy department in securing a dirigible base in California, the Brea location is not being considered. Navy officials, it is said, consider the location too near the hills to be of value.

It was reported from this source also that the Navy is considering the possibility of locating an auxiliary shipyard at Newport Harbor.

Departure for Japan Preceded by Gay Party

Frederick's departure today for Japan to take up a government position as teacher of English, Delmar Brown was honored guest Wednesday evening at an informal affair given by Mrs. Hazel Maxwell in her home, 624 South Main street.

Miss Ruby Belcher assisted the hostess in making plans for the party, attended by a group of intimate friends. Indoor baseball, croquet, bridge and other games were enjoyed during the evening. As the party drew to a close, refreshments of ice-cream, cake and grapefruit were served. The guests presented Mr. Brown with a handsome book in which he had been especially interested for some time.

Mr. Brown, who received his degree from Stanford university this year, will go to Kanazawa, Japan to fulfill a three-year contract with the Japanese government as professor of English in a boy's school. He left here today by bus for Seattle, Wash., and from there will continue to the Orient.

Varied Hospitality is Proffered at Party in Ranch Garden

Merry games of childhood such as drop the handkerchief and still pond, shared interest with those of a more sophisticated era when Mrs. E. A. Reid and her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Reid Hogue, entertained last night at a moonlight garden party at the Reid home ranch on West Collins avenue north of Orange.

Informality was the keynote of the evening, and guests drifted from the hilarious merriment of a childhood game, to the bridge tables arranged beneath the trees of the garden, sought the big rope swings to see breathlessly through the clear moonlight air, or perhaps assembled by the roaring fire in the outdoor grill to shout advice to contestants on the miniature golf course.

In the meantime, the grill had its more utilitarian uses, and a great pot of coffee was brewing while corn was roasting in a bed of hot coals under the supervision of Avert Scriven. Young men of the party assisted in toasting and buttering buns in readiness for the waltzers grilling on pointed sticks over the coals in readiness for the feast which ended with the serving of watermelon.

For the remainder of the evening, the quieter pleasures of singing were uppermost, and gathered around the cheerful fire, hostesses and guests joined in a succession of melodies of yesterday and those of the moment.

Sharing the hospitality of Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Hogue were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grunwell, Miss Catherine Jessup, Miss Marie Scriven, Miss Louise Maloney, Mrs. Emmett Elliott and Messrs. Grant Goddickson, Jerry Price, Robert Matthews, John Norton, Fred Warren, Woodson Oglesby, Avert Scriven, Jack Fredericks and Frederick Elliott.

Ranch Home Provides Setting for Merry Party

The delights of the W. J. Lindor ranch, located near the city, were shared recently by a group of friends invited there in observance of the seventh birthday of Jimmie Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanson who came here from Iowa this summer to make their home. Ralph Lindsay, a nephew of the Lindseys, makes his home on the ranch, and joined with his uncle and aunt in entertaining.

The handsome horses and the little pony which are part of the ranch equipment, proved of special interest to the guests, who spent much of the afternoon riding horseback. They were royally entertained by the trained goat as well. Games on the lawn were enjoyed during the afternoon.

In the evening, everyone adjourned indoors for the delicious covered-dish dinner served amidst bouquets of Shasta daisies and other flowers. A decorated birthday cake centered the table. Jimmie was presented with many gifts from the assembled well-wishers.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Edmiston of East St. Louis, who have been spending several months in Southern California, visiting in Costa Mesa and in the Lindsay home here.

Others in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Hanson and Jimmie and Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay and Ralph Lindsay; and the Rev. and Mrs. G. N. Greer of Fullerton; Mrs. Myrtle Stuart, Miss Marie Stuart, Mrs. Nell Thompson, Harry and Lorraine Thompson, Mrs. May Woodside and grandson, Donald, James Torrens, Miss Ethel Torrens, Mrs. W. R. McBurney and children, Jane, Ruth and Billie, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lasby, Carl and Lawrence Johnston, of Santa Ana; W. Calumit Auxiliary's Past Presidents Entertained

The Charles E. Waffle home at 2124 Valencia street, was opened Tuesday night to the Past Presidents' club of the Calumit auxiliary U. S. W. V., whose members assembled to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Waffle, one of their number.

They found a charming mid-summer scene, for their hostess had cut great clusters of hand-some dahlias from her garden to use in decking her home. There was a short period devoted to business affairs of the club, with Mrs. Waffle herself presiding in accordance with the Past Presidents' custom of naming the hostess at each meeting, the chairman in charge.

For the remainder of the evening, the guests played bridge with Mrs. Estelle Dresser making the highest number of points and Mrs. Bertha N. Dixon her close rival. Pretty prizes were awarded to each.

For the refreshment hour Mrs. Waffle invited her sister members to the dining room where many roses gave a flower garden effect especially to the table where the central basket of roses was flanked by two beautiful birthday cakes bright with candles. One of these honored Mrs. Dixon and the other honored Mrs. Howard Wassum, the two August birthday celebrants of the Past Presidents' organization.

After each had blown out the candles on her cake to the accompaniment of the customary good wishes, the confectations were served with the other dainties prepared by the hostess. D. A. V. Auxiliary Will Preside at Summer Social Events

Important committees for carrying on the activities of the women's auxiliary to Jack Fisher chapter, D. A. V. were named Wednesday night when the auxiliary held its meeting in Legion hall with Mrs. Hazel Chittenden in the commander's chair.

These appointments were made by Mrs. Chittenden, started with that of Mrs. Betty Murphy as adjutant to fill out the unexpired term of Evelyn Imhoff, who resigned because she was to be absent from the city. Of the various committees appointed by the commander probably none was of more importance than the welfare committee to whose chairmanship Mrs. Rose Edwards was named.

The ways and means committee was named with Frances Jones as chairman, Celia Vandermast and Adeline Nussbaumer completing the list. On the membership committee were named Myrtle Gold, chairman, Mary Fisher, Genevieve Day and Marie Brewer. The hospital committee was named as Ella Pickard, chairman; Opal McCall and Rose Edwards, while Rose Alexander was named to the chairmanship of the legislative committee.

Miss Lydia Fisher, chairmen, Beulah Curran, Evelyn Imhoff and Rose Alexander were named to the publicity committee; Hilda Riehl and Mary Fisher to the reception committee, and Opal McCall as chairmen of the refreshment committee.

In addition to the naming of these various groups were other important features such as planning a benefit bridge party to be held Wednesday night, August 17, with Mrs. Mary Fisher and Miss Lydia Fisher, 516 South Birch street. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock and reservations should be made in advance either by telephoning the Fisher home at 1866-J or to Mrs. Frances Jones, 5245-J.

Plans for other social affairs of the month included the picnic dinner which chapter and auxiliary members are to share on Wednesday, August 24, in Heves park. Each one attending is to provide a prepared dish and bread and butter for the menu to be served at 6 o'clock, and each family group must take its own needs in table service.

Following the business session of Wednesday night and the discussions of future events, auxiliary members greeted the men of Jack Fisher chapter who had conducted their business session as well, and a pleasant social hour was shared with light refreshments served by women of the auxiliary.

Year of Wedded Life Is Celebrated at Surprise Party

On Tuesday evening, the first anniversary of their wedding day of August 5, 1931, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCollum were reminded very happily of their year of wedlock, by a bevy of close friends who arrived unexpectedly in their home, 607 East Pine street.

Mrs. McCollum, who just a year ago had been Miss Margaret Seeber, one of that summer's pretty brides, had her home gay with pink and white flowers for her own little celebration of the anniversary and these formed a charmingly festive setting for the scene when card tables were placed for a series of bridge and other games.

The guests had been thoughtful enough to plan for a prize which was won by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vardy with the high score of the evening.

Refreshments too were arranged, so when Mrs. McCollum planned the card tables with some of her dainty bridal linens and placed clusters of pink and white blossoms as an added embellishment to each table, the guests sought places for the enjoyment of ice cream, cake and coffee.

Memories of the wedding day a year ago were given added significance when many pretty gifts were produced for Mr. and Mrs. McCollum, an especially interesting one being the set of silver from the young matron's grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Carmichael.

In the friendly group were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vardy of Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seeber, Mrs. M. A. Carmichael, Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCollum of Anaheim, together with the surprised hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCollum.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Tongue As a Tasty Addition To The Menu

Have you noticed that meats have begun to increase in price? Some meats are still so low that you can afford to do interesting things with them. Sweetbreads are an example; creamed and done with green peas they make a most appetizing and decorative entree or luncheon plate.

But what I want to talk about most is the possibilities in veal tongue. Much veal is coming into the market right now, so let's do some in tomato soup for cold meat or for sandwiches. They should cost about 10 cents per pound. Buy two or three, soak them in salt water for a few hours, parboil and change water, then simmer with a clove of garlic, a bay leaf and a dozen peppercorns, all tied up in a bit of cheese cloth. When the tongue is about half done put in a big cupful of split peas and simmer along.

You kill two birds with one stone doing this; you cook the tongue in a delicious broth and after the tongue is cooked you have a grand pot of split pea soup to serve.

Assuming that the tongues are cooked and peeled (put in cold water to peel easily), arrange them in a mould of some sort, curling them to make a compact loaf. If you want to be very swanky line the mould with thin slices of cooked ham or anchor slices of hard cooked egg on bottom and sides of mould with a little dissolved gelatin. For the tomato soup use some of your tomato juice cocktail mixture, and I think I'd leave in all the things used to season it. Use either plain gelatin dissolved over hot water, or some commercial pectin to jelly it. Pour over the tongues to completely cover, and chill for a day.

KEN MAYNARD SEEN AT WALKER STATE

The West! The West of open spaces and daring romance!

Such is the background for the story of "Whistlin' Dan," the new Ken Maynard production now playing at Walker's State theater. Against a setting on the Rio Grande, it portrays all the gun-toting, rip-roaring elements of the Western movies we know. It is crammed full of action, full of intrigue, and full of brilliant romance.

With Ken Maynard in the featured role, the cast is easily one of the strongest ever gathered. "Whistlin' Dan" is a thrill and a treat for everybody!

NEW WESTERN AT WEST COAST REAL THRILLER

"Vanishing Frontier," a story of Old California, starring Johnny Mack Brown, and featuring Evalyn Knapp, Zasu Pitts, Raymond Hatton and J. Farrell MacDonald, opened yesterday at the Fox West Coast theater.

The story is set in the period immediately following California's annexation to the United States, but before the territorial government has been set up. Under command of an unimaginative officer, "Vanishing Frontier," a story of Old California, starring Johnny Mack Brown, and featuring Evalyn Knapp, Zasu Pitts, Raymond Hatton and J. Farrell MacDonald, opened yesterday at the Fox West Coast theater.

Into the picture comes Miss Knapp, daughter of a general, risks his life to see her. Soon she loves him, too. But there is much thrilling action before the two are finally united.

The picture is filled with stirring and breathless incidents. Battles between the guerillas and the military, escape from a convict ship, midnight rides through precipitous canyons, and many other such sequences contribute to the suspense.

Average Consumer Eats 150 Pounds Meat Each Year

That the average consumer uses up 150 square yards of cotton cloth per year and eats over 150 pounds of meat are among the surprising facts discovered in a recent survey of the American consumer market by the National Bureau of Economic Research.

While the average man is a difficult person to find, his habits as revealed statistically are such as to make or break great industries. In this year of stagnancy, for example, he has for some inexplicable reason chosen to burn more gasoline than he did during the boom. His savings account, apparently little affected by the change in conditions, totals $134. His income is $1,340. His expenditures are $1,200. His savings are $140. His income is $1,340. His expenditures are $1,200. His savings are $140.

In addition to his large consumption of meat, the typical consumer drinks 845 pounds of milk a year, eats 249 pounds of potatoes, 12 pounds of candy and 11 pounds of coffee.

"ALL-BRAN LIVES
UP TO REPUTATION"

Her Constipation Overcome
by This Delicious Cereal

If you are troubled with constipation, read Miss Bundy's enthusiastic letter:

"I would like to congratulate the one who discovered ALL-BRAN. It really does live up to its reputation when it is said to 'relieve constipation'."

"I used to feel poor all the time—just down and out—and after reading an advertisement in a magazine about ALL-BRAN I got a box. It has evermore helped me, and it is not hard at all to eat."—Miss Mary Bundy, Bennettsville, S. C.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much safer than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BOARD OF STRATEGY MAKES REPORT

The Register is calling attention today to the report of the Board of Strategy of Orange county. The Board of Strategy has sent out letters to the various candidates for public office, and in these letters they have enclosed a questionnaire, endeavoring to learn the attitude of these candidates upon prohibition, and their personal attitude in regard to the observance of law.

The board has made its report in harmony with the replies thereto. We believe that the leaders of the temperance forces are not only well within their rights in making this survey, but are doing a great service for the public in announcing their findings. It is now up to the voter. There is the opportunity to vote for the candidates who are known to be supporting prohibition, not only by their vote, but by their observance of the law.

It is this class of men who will insure greater respect for a better enforcement of the 18th amendment, and the laws of the land. Orange county is one of the finest and best counties of our country. The leadership of the temperance forces has performed a fine service for the rest of us, and we appreciate it. Their report will be found elsewhere in the columns of today's paper.

The local board did not pass any resolution in regard to the candidates for United States Senator. There was a difference of opinion as to whether Mr. Shuler or Mr. Crail should be endorsed, and so the only action we have is the action of the state board, which favored Mr. Crail.

This Board of Strategy believes that by uniting their forces on Mr. Crail that they would be more likely to defeat one of the other candidates, all of whom are "wets." We are well aware that there is a difference of opinion as to whether Mr. Shuler or Mr. Crail will be stronger in the Republican primaries. All the Board of Strategy can do is to express their judgment upon the matter, and this judgment is in the findings, and they endorse the findings of the state committee on this matter.

In all the local Orange county cases, the reasons for endorsement will be obvious, with the exception of the candidates for the Assembly in the 75th district. There are two candidates in this district, Mr. Craig and Mr. Long. We understand that both of them are "drys." Just why one was selected as against the other does not appear in the report, but we believe we will do no injustice to state these facts.

In our own district, Assembly District No. 74, with three known "dry" candidates, they declared each one of these to be satisfactory. We believe this is fair and right, and certainly can do no injustice to any one of the "dry" candidates.

Mr. McKinney of our own county is announced as a "dry" candidate for Congress. Mr. Hadaller of San Bernardino will vote for the repeal of the 18th amendment if he should be elected.

We believe that the citizens of the county can be trusted to do their part on election day.

LAGUNA BEACH FESTIVE

Orange County and Laguna Beach will be the mecca for music, art and drama lovers during the next eight days.

The Festival of Arts at Laguna Beach will be opened tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock when the booths of the Marche Aux Croûtes (Street Market) will be thrown open to the public. From then until Sunday night, August 20, there will be only busy hours ahead for the residents of the Art Colony.

The entire little village by the sea has been decorated and brilliantly illuminated for the Festival of Arts.

Those lovers of music, art and the drama will be in their glory. The famous artists of the West will display their canvasses. Pageants and operas will be staged nightly.

For the lovers of beautiful gardens there will be tours of the various beauty spots of Laguna Beach, and there are many.

In fact it will be open house in Laguna Beach for the next eight days. Merchants and residents will throw open their stores and homes to the visiting public.

Laguna Beach has been hit hard by the depression, the tearing up of the Coast Boulevard and one of the coldest summers in many years, but the merchants and residents are not down hearted. They have put their shoulder to the wheel and in a spirit of cooperation are staging something unique and original in the Festival of Arts.

All Orange County joins in wishing only the best of success to Laguna Beach.

UNEMPLOYED ORGANIZATION DOING SPLENDID WORK

We would like to call attention to the good work of the Unemployed Association. There is some criticism because some of their members make mistakes, and are carried away with a speaker who may be very extreme.

But, after all, the Unemployed Association has done and is doing a wonderful work. They have gone out and gathered vegetables and fruits; they have gathered clothing and everything that anyone could use, and they have been distributing it to the needy in a very remarkable way. They have saved the people of this city and of the county, a lot of work, and undoubtedly have gathered material together, which would not have been gathered under other circumstances.

The purpose of this organization was to help the needy, and to give an opportunity for those who were thrown out of employment, to help themselves. There is the charge that some in it are attempting to use it for political ends. Maybe some individuals are, but they are like individuals in every other organization who misuse it. And we do not believe that they are countenanced by the organization as a whole, and certainly not by the ones who are directing it.

It is easy enough to find fault with them. It is not difficult for them to make mistakes, but we all do, and every organization does, and it would be very strange if they did not. The reports we have received from the Citizens' committee, which is watching the activity of the Unemployed Association, and is giving them guidance and help and co-operation, wherever needed, is that the Unemployed Association is doing a wonderful work.

A WORKMAN WORTHY OF HIS HIRE

Sometime ago the publisher of this paper, in delivering an address, said that the politicians who didn't like the things The Register was standing for, and maintaining, would identify themselves.

When people have no defense to make of their position, they deal in personalities and attacks. The politicians of the county have employed a certain publisher to do this for them. You mustn't blame him. He is earning his money.

Let's Hope They Stick to Slogan

The San Bernardino Sun
We admire the strategy of those Democrats who advance with the claim that the signs of returning prosperity are prompted by the expectation that Roosevelt will win in November.

That is much better than a denial that there is any sign of returning prosperity.

The whole country, regardless of partisanship, prays for the return of better times. There is underway a great drive to restore confidence, for the greatest hope of the country is in vanquishing of the fear and gloom that have exceeded in their intensity the joy and ultra-optimism of those other days.

Engaged in this drive are leaders of both political parties and industrialists who are members of both political parties. That is as it should be. The Republicans hope—and that hope is quite natural—that if there is a revival of business and employment by October President Hoover will benefit.

It would not be difficult to launch a campaign cry: "Things are going up at last—don't rock the boat." Doubtless it would have an effect in the November election. The Democrats admit it would have an effect, if there is real basis for the belief that times are better.

But there is no sign that the Democrats intend to belittle the prospects for business recovery. It is true that it would not be a very popular thing to do, but political expediency sometimes warps the judgment of political leaders.

We are glad the Democrats are carrying on; their new slogan that the prospects of a Democratic victory is responsible for signs of business recovery is much better than the one they would yell "baloney" every time some one dares to announce that the depression is licked at last.

Practical Flying Records

The Christian Science Monitor

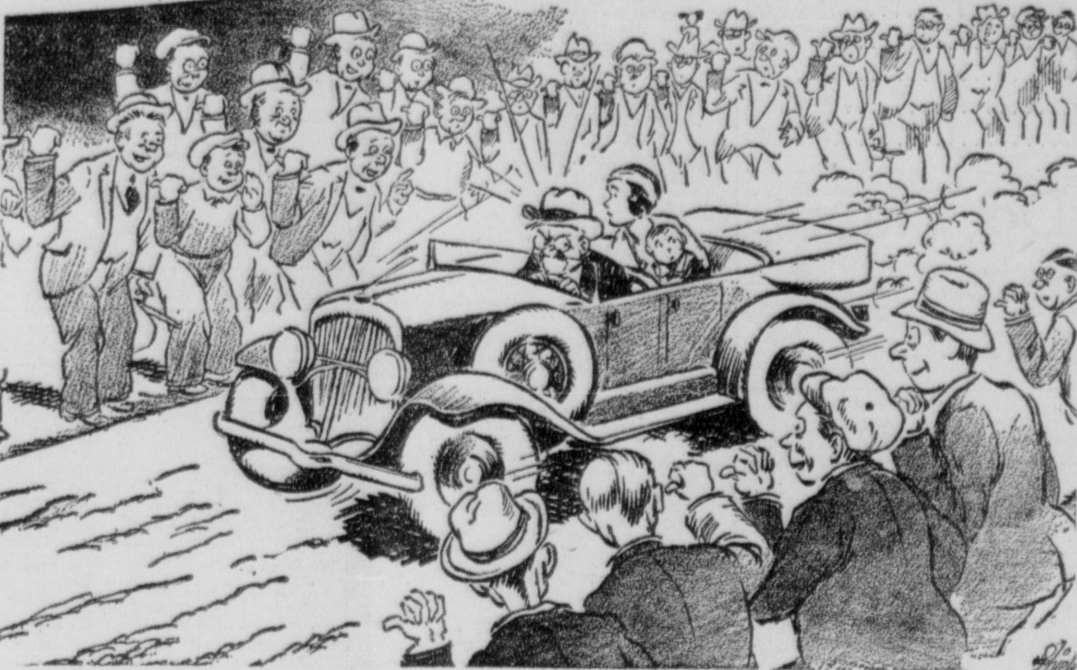

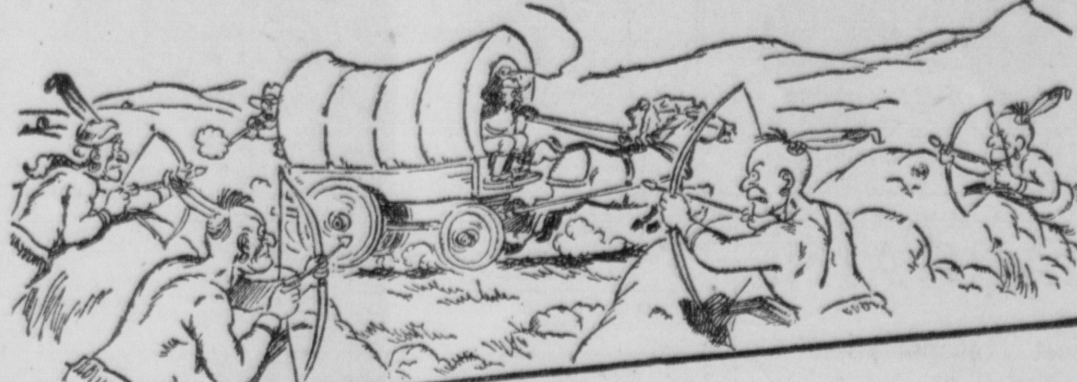

All aviation speed records are interesting; not all are really significant. The breaking of the record between two distant cities by some intrepid flier is news that stirs the adventurous imagination of millions. All over the world people follow with breathless fascination the story of ocean fliers or globe circlers. But—what is their practical value?

Such flights are excellent tests of the pilot's courage and ability. They show, experimentally, the tremendous time-saving possibilities of aviation. They are practical only as they demonstrate certain theories of flying, and point the way to aviation progress.

The recent records of a California transport company, however, showing up at present actualities of aerial transportation. Carrying six passengers, a transport flier flew the seventy miles from San Francisco to Sacramento in 17 minutes—an average speed of 248 miles an hour. This same company announces a time reduction on its San Francisco to Los Angeles service to 1 hour 55 minutes. For the 248 miles its planes average 181 miles an hour—on a regular schedule listed in a time-table.

The experimental flights must go on, but it is these regular, high-speed schedules that will make the benefits of aviation available to the general public. Business men need constant dependable service to prove for them the great virtue of flying to their business engagements. The aviation companies that use the results of the experiments in everyday business deserve public tribute as well as the courageous experimenters.

More Truth Than Poetry

BEAUTY AND HUMAN NATURE

A College professor asserts that crime is promoted by ugly municipal surroundings.

I now know why I feel at times
Like straying from the narrow road,
And perpetrating sundry crimes
Which violate the moral code.
My forehead furrows in a frown,
And evil thoughts arise in me
Because, when strolling up and down,
Such utter ugliness I see.

Upon some mid-Victorian pile
I cast a disapproving eye;
Some crude monstrosity of tile
Offends me as I'm strolling by.
And then I feel a wild desire
To mingle in a gangster war,
To set a vacant house on fire,
Or rob a neighboring grocery store.

But when about me buildings rise
Whose graceful lines are fair to scan,
My every savage instinct dies,
In fact, I'm quite another man.
The sunshine through my cosmos streams,
And in an altered state of mind,
I dream delightful kindly dreams
Of benefitting all mankind.

And yet the folk of ancient Greece,
Around whom lovely temples rose,
Were not eternally at peace,
But always battling with their foes.
Though beauty in these modern days
May have the gentle, soothing touch
That makes ill doers mend their ways
It never helped those people much!

Let us also shed a tear for the forgotten manhood. Smedley Butler says those who wear uniforms are superior to ordinary people. This seems especially true of doormen. Germany didn't get America's goat. She wasn't shrewd enough to camouflage her troops as falling stocks. It is estimated that Mr. Roosevelt will get the votes of 173,450 who remember that gallant career up San Juan hill.

AFTER ALL, THE CHEAPEST WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF IS TO TAKE YOUR COAT BY BOTH LAPELS AND SHAKE IT.

Anyway, wealth brings happiness to the lawyers needed to defend it. Well, those economists who advocated a minimum wage finally got their way. The promise of tax exemption seems to encourage investment in almost everything except babies.

AMERICANISM: Laughing at suckers who expect a political party to keep its platform promises; expecting beer tomorrow because one platform is wet.

Florida has more thunder and California less than any other region. But this isn't true of political thunder. So Europeans could buy more American goods if their tax burdens were lightened? Well, so could Americans. Maybe debt cancellation would make Europe grateful, but can we stand any more of her gratitude?

YOU DON'T SEE MUCH OF THE KIDS, BUT YOU KNOW THEY ARE HOME FROM SCHOOL. THE CAR'S GONE.

You see, we do without Russia's business because she won't pay her debts, and we cancel Europe's debts to get more of her business. Sometimes you wonder just what else statesmen would have done if they had deliberately tried to wreck the world.

There are ways to solve economic problems, but electing a Congressman because he favors beer or bonus or vice versa isn't one of them.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pape

We was eating breakfast and the doorbell rang 2 short rings. Being the letter carrier's trademark, and I ran and got the mail, being 2 letters for pop, and he looked at them, saying, I'd be willing to bet that postman's name is Bill.

Meeting on account of him bringing pop so many bills and being a pretty good of a joke, and pop started to open one, saying, Here's one from the Treasury Department asking for more taxes, I suppose. Some Treasury Departments are never satisfied, he said.

And he started to read it, saying, I was all wrong, the postman's name is Santa Claus and my name is Cressus Morgan Rockefeller, just like— to this. And he read the letter, being, Dear Sir: Pursuant to a recent decision pertaining to taxes paid at the source, we are herewith returning you $13.90 for which we include check.

Do you mean the government is actually giving you $13.90? ma said, and pop, Well, it was actually my money but I feel as though they were giving it to me. Well, this is starting the day right, he said.

That's perfectly marvellous, ma said. Imagine being given $13.90 for breakfast, and by the government, of all people! I congratulate you, Willyum, and I think you awt to celebrate such a wonderful stroke of fortune, and I know how. I saw the most beautiful mock ash re-severer at Hookbinders yesterday. The sound of $13.90 reminded me of them, because that's just what they cost $13.90 I'm going to send one home, and every time you smoke your cigar and look at that mock ash re-severer you'll remember that lucky check for $13.90, she said.

But what the dooce is a mock ash re-severer? pop said, and ma said, It's one of the cleverest things I ever saw, it looks just like one of these tall ash re-severers that all the men seem to like, but it's not. What it really is, is a sewing box, she said.

The world was made for wimmin, pop said. And he rolled up the morning paper and went down to the office.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today
From The Register Files

AUGUST 12, 1918

Anaheim's wet and dry situation assumed an unexpected turn when every liquor dealer in that city signed a petition to the board of trustees asking that petitions be filed to call a special election, be disregarded and that instead a bone-dry ordinance be enacted to become effective February 1, 1919.

City lighting orders received by The California Packing corporation cannery on East First street was completing plans for opening canning operations on a large scale on August 15, when between 300 and 400 men and women would be employed canning pineapples and chilis. The previous year's payroll had averaged $3500 a week, and it was believed that the current year would run a sum in excess of this.

Miss Arlie Cravath, assistant secretary at the Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Hattie Powers of the county recorder's office, were home from a vacation outing at Catalina Island.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TWELVE LAMPS OF PLANNING

Much is being said just now, and said convincingly, of the necessity of bringing more deliberate planning into the all-too-chaotic administration of production, distribution and consumption nationally and internationally.

I am interested, therefore, to call attention, from time to time, in these articles to valuable discussions or planning.

Today I direct attention to an important paper by Hugo Haan in the July issue of The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

In this paper, Mr. Haan discusses twelve principles of planning:

(1) Planning uses methods of science and data disclosed by research.

(2) Planning establishes, by means of scientific procedure, definite standards of accomplishment for every field of action.

(3) Planning uses these standards as elements to regulate the organized interplay of forces toward preestablished objectives, and as tools of measuring the degrees of carrying out plans, expressed in terms of standards.

(4) Planning prefers the functional type of military (bureaucratic) types of organization, co-operative control to authority, and understanding to mere obedience.

(5) Planning aims at stability and the avoidance of rapid and excessive changes in economic life.

(6) Planning follows the law of extension from the narrower to the broader.

(7) Planning is to be based on planning units. These are: geographical units—regions; economic units—industries; and political units—nations.

(8) Planning is not limited in time (like most of the plans), but represents a permanent way of concerted doing.

(9) Planning sees its incentives more in effects than in profits.

(10) Planning breaks away from crystallized habits and from the opinion that economies, industry, business' production, and so forth, are ends in themselves, and sets its objective outside, over them, in the steady rise of the general standard of living.

(11) Planning, hence, cannot be entirely economic nor entirely social, but must be social-economic in character.

(12) Planning believes in evolution, not in revolution, and therefore adopts a policy of patience which counts progress in terms not of years nor of decades but of generations, in conformity with a greater plan.

I list these twelve points in order to indicate that planning is no mysterious doctrine but a simple use of science and common sense. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper's Syn.

THE NECESSITIES

Lately I heard a child specialist talking to mothers and he said that one must first get the necessities of life for the children and went on to talk about their clothes and their schools and their health. While he was talking I thought of what I would like to give all the children of the world, the necessities, without which, as the specialist said, they could not thrive.

First I would give them good houses. I believe that the houses we live in have a lot to do with what we are. If every child could have a good house and home—what more could we want for him? The best place, I believe, it in the country. I would like to start every child in a house in the country, one that has a good yard, some grass and good soil and at least one big apple tree, and there is a brook nearby so much the better. But I would be satisfied with a house in the open. The youngster would find the other things himself.

After fixing upon the house I would like to arrange for his food. Good milk, fresh water, fresh eggs, and all the fruit and vegetables he could eat. If they are raised on his own home grounds so much the better. If we have to buy them from the farmer we will be content. The first hand freshness is the thing that counts.

I would want fresh air. That means that the house would be built far enough from the city to avoid the dust and gases. If the wind from the sea or the hills sweeps over it that makes it perfect. Air is food because it helps to nourish the body and the quality of the air has its effect on the children. Sparkling mountain air makes children shine like fruit.

Toys, I would almost consider them a necessity, ought to be real things that children can handle with purpose and skill. If they have toys they must be selected because they are going to be the medium by which the children gather a goodly share of their education. Some tool is necessary—call it what you will—and it must be worth while, because play is one of the master essentials of child growth.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.) (Copyright, 1932, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

AMERICANS ADVANCE

On Aug. 12, 1918, British and American troops in Picardy advanced rapidly and were reported on the outskirts of Roye, which was taken by the Germans in their first spring offensive.

American forces also gained a foothold in Bray, in the same region.

Hard-pressed German regiments were retreating in good order, but with tremendous losses from Allied artillery. The German divisions in this region apparently lacked reserves and were compelled to remain in the battle line despite the fierce fighting.

News of another Austrian defeat in Italy further disheartened newspapers in Berlin, some of which were beginning to hint that peace should be made.
